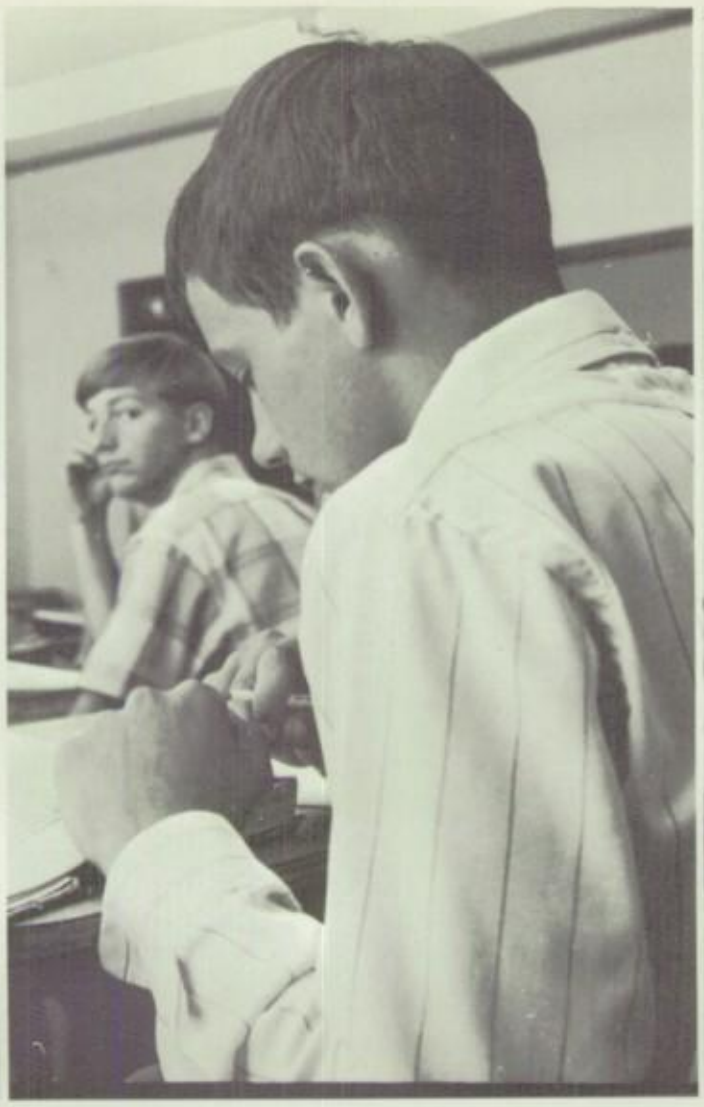
Belinda Savala finds her place of studying on the steps of the school.

"Who me!" exclaims William Surface.

Study . . . plan . . . give . . . Getting into the old routine is very enjoyable when autumn sunshine lends itself to outdoor study . . . The many groups in high school plan and discuss the coming events of the school year . . . The opportunity to meet new classmates comes with "Howdy Week" . . . Del City High plans its future and lends a helping hand in guiding the futures of its students.

As Jerry Vickers goes for a touchdown, he finds himself out running the referee.



Barry Klotz looks back to see if Max Pierce is actually doing homework.

Joyce Wheeler, an active worker in Red Cross, is a common figure each morning in the cafeteria.

Cathy Dotson and Mr. Russell Johnson look on as Ray McDonald tries desperately to pass an orange to Crystal Luker during "Howdy Week" activities.

Larry Howard, Max Oyola, and Joe Selden show the friendly atmosphere at Del City High.

Jack Wimberly points out an interesting feature in the new field house to Janet Thompson.

After having helped the Pep Club collect pop bottles, Gayle Carver cashes them in at a local store.

As Karla Koenig holds the ladder, Jackie Morgan and Becky Tilly show their talents in decorating the goal post.

While waiting to be served, Margene Griffin and Danny Allen attempt to fasten her bracelet.

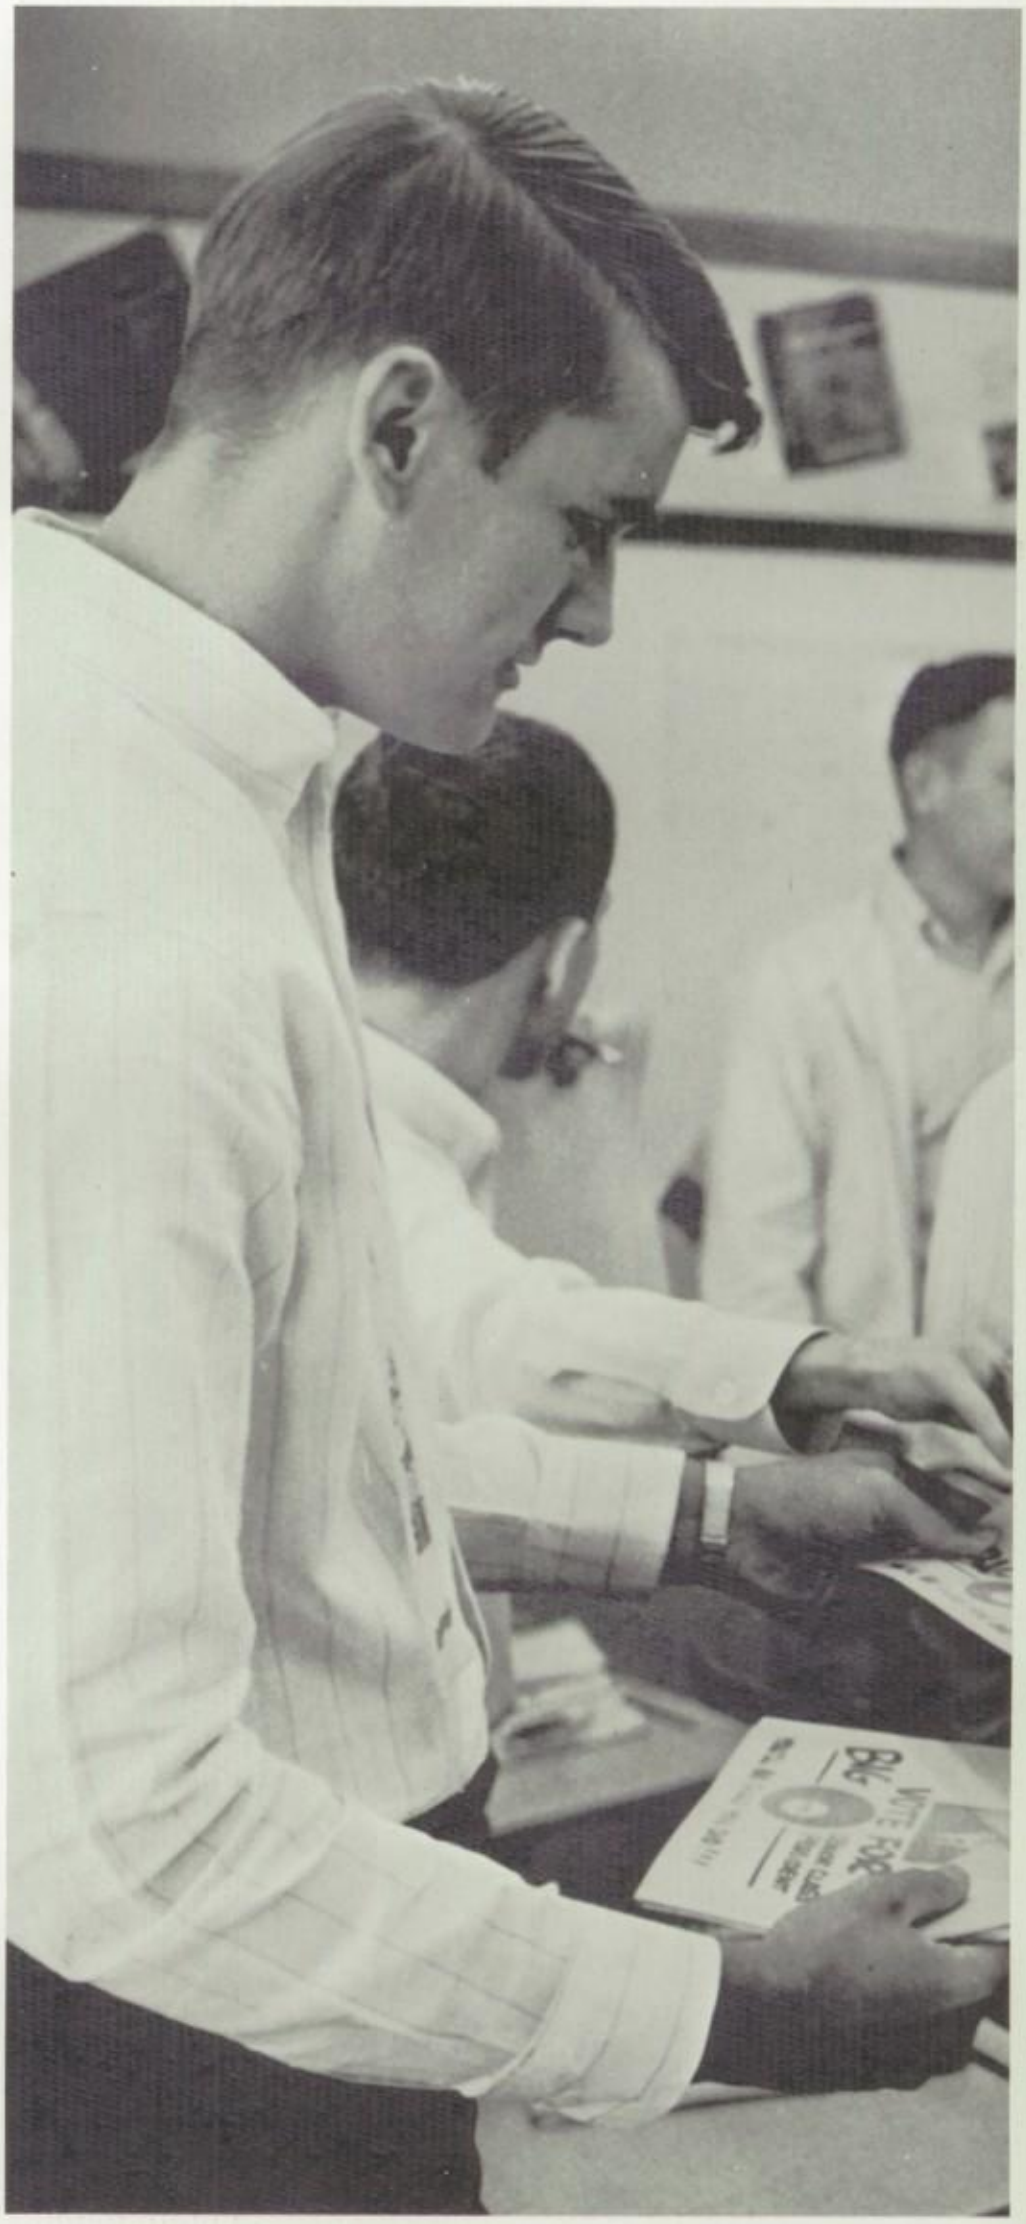
The silhouettes of the buildings suggest goals—goals of greater knowledge . . . ability to get along with others . . . and to accumulate facts that allow the student to make his own decisions. All of these goals may be attained through the study of academic subjects and participation in the extra-curricular activities which make up high school life.

For all students, high school offers new opportunities for finding a way of life. For some, Del City High will lead to high degrees of knowledge, development, social understanding, and participation. To others, years on campus represent only mediocre achievements.

The 1969 Eagle has been designed to help students share and recall the days they spent at Del City High School.

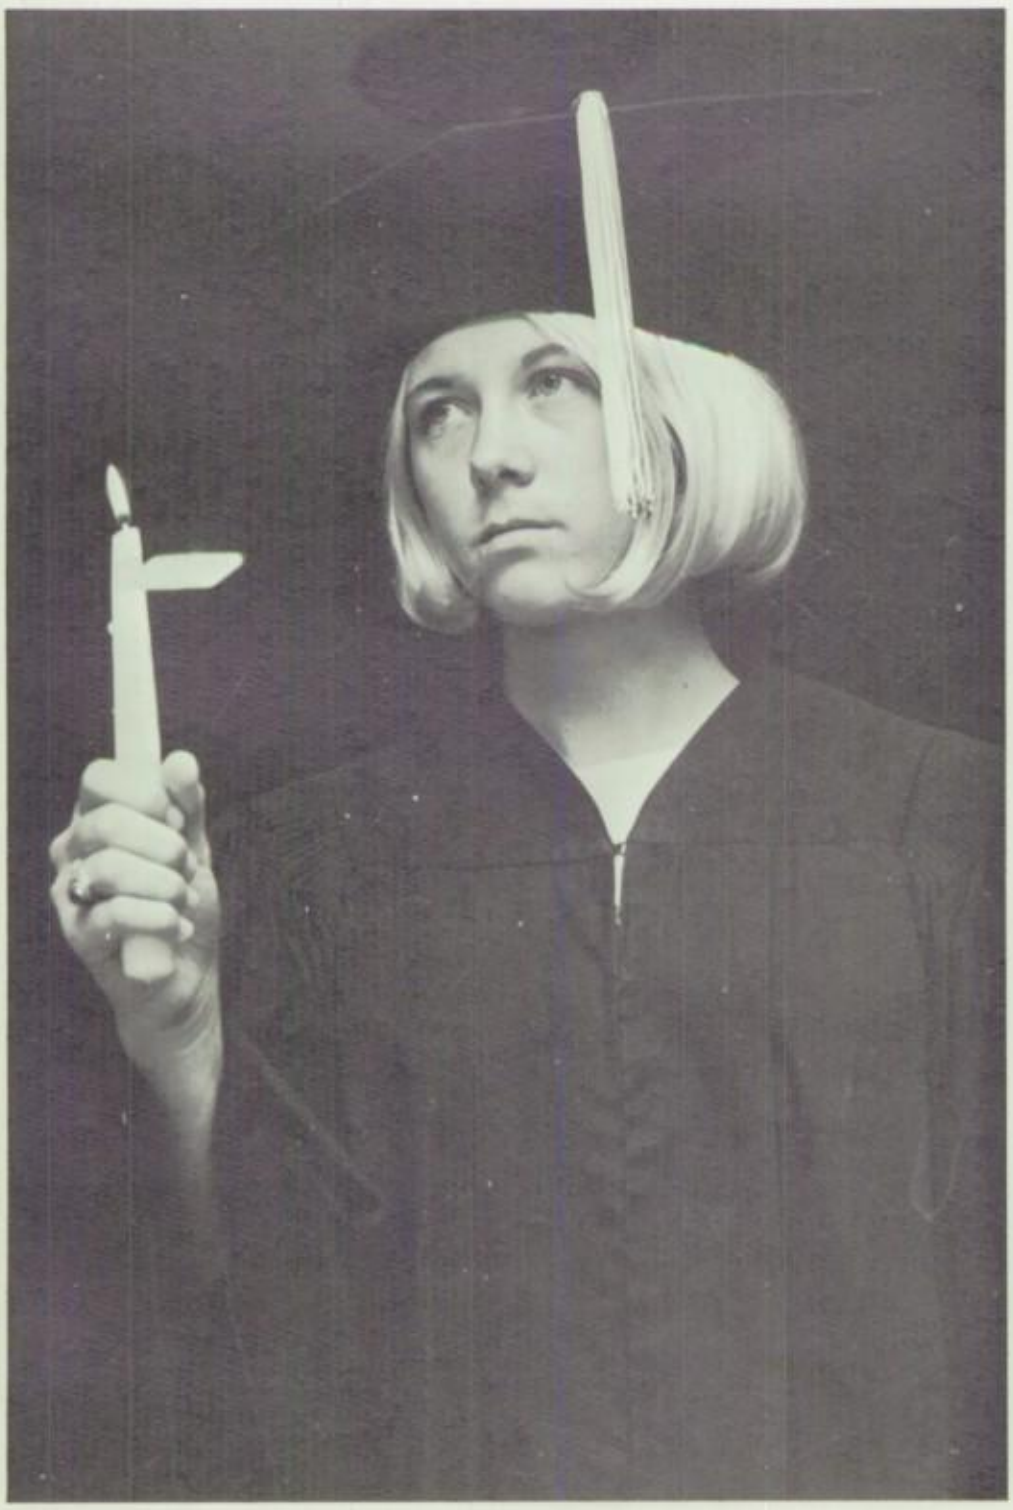
At the very outset, the traditional activities of our high school were underway . . . the confusion of pre-enrollment . . . the chaos of class elections . . . the excitement of pep assemblies . . . and the graditude for the first school holiday.

Mrs. Grable asks Johnny Weaver if he is sure that is his correct name.



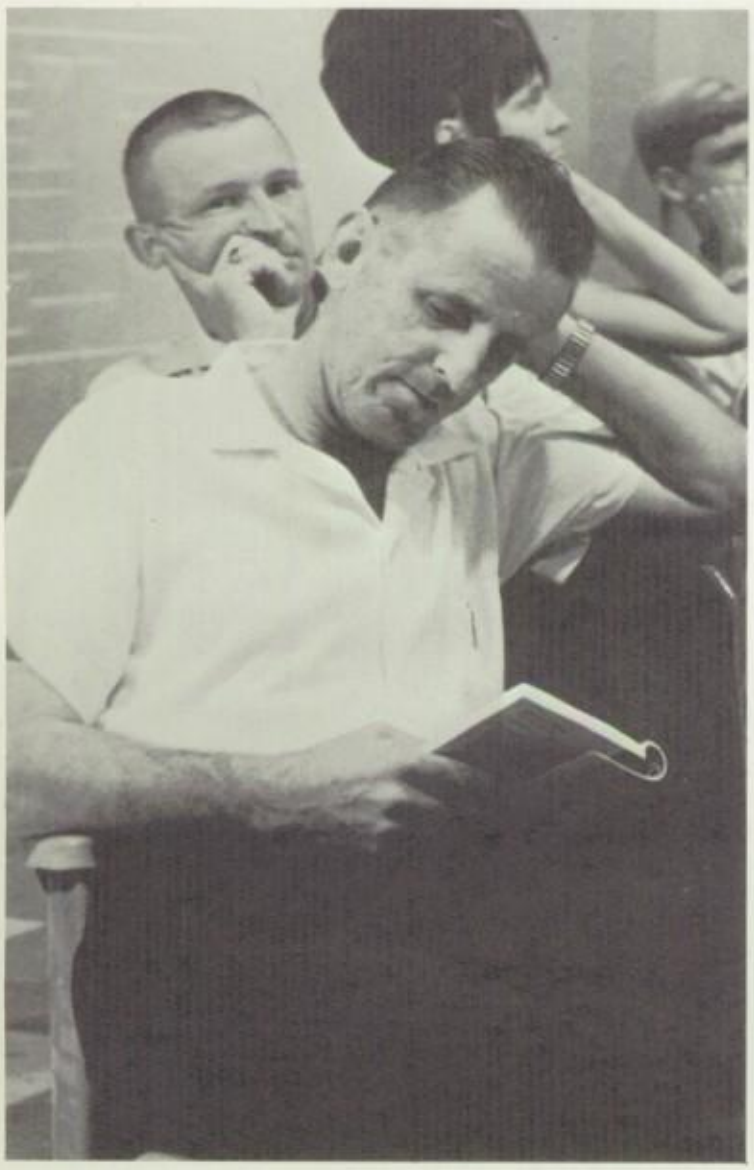
Jerry O'Pry, a determined candidate for Senior Class President, passes out campaign material.

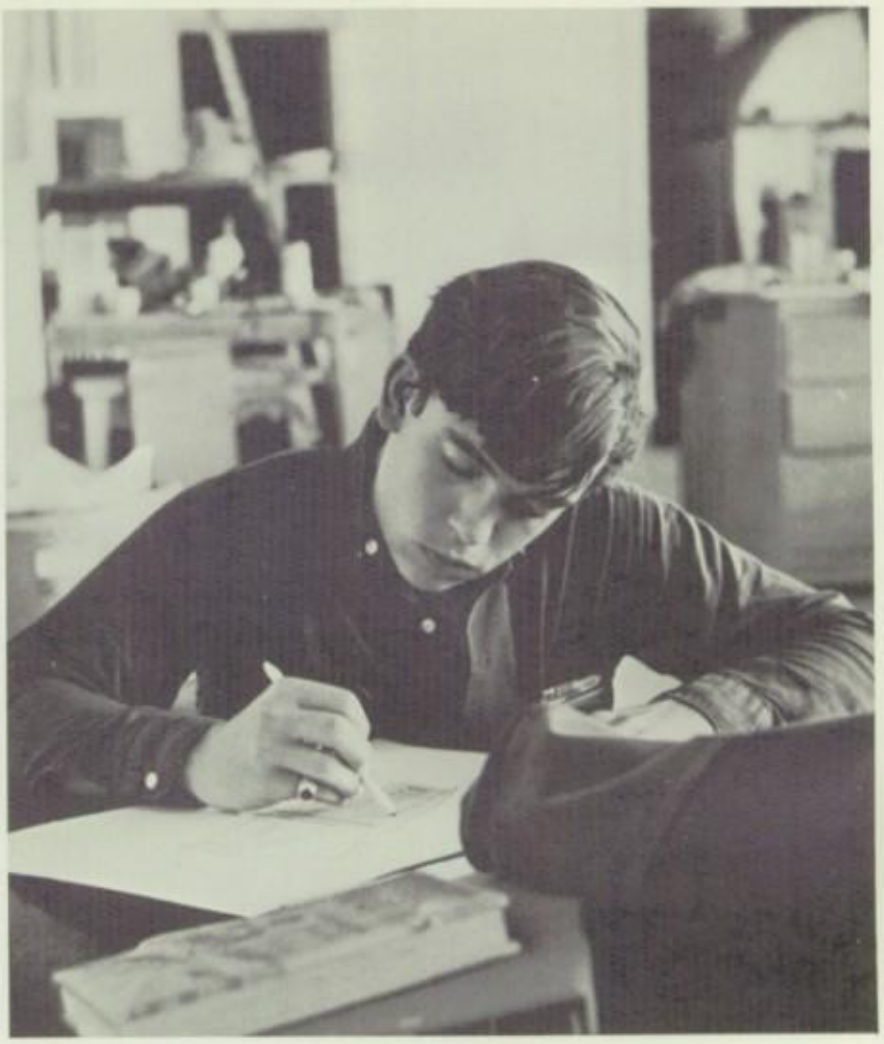
At a pep assembly, Carol Kelly leads the school in spirit.

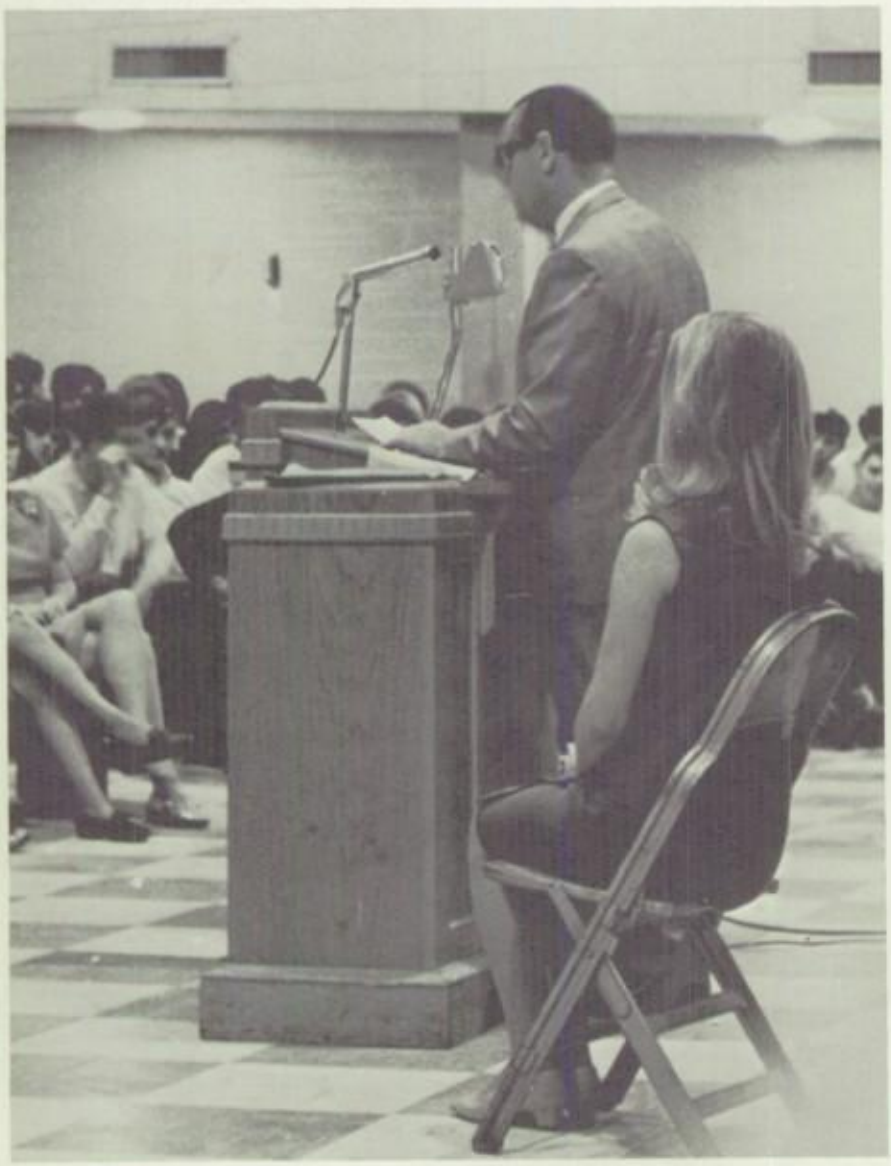


Linda Willeford gazes into the light of the future.

Happiness to Karla Koenig and Eddie Swank is an ice cream cone.







ALMA MATER

Del City High the one we love
Will be on high and far above;
The schools may come and go on by
But our own Eagles soar on high;
We'll ne'er forget as years go by
Our triumph school, Del City High.

O Father, let us understand
The future is in Thy right hand;
Our triumph glories must be won
By our own selves and forgotten sons;
O Father grant us ever be
A strong arm of our history.

Yearbook Staff Captures the Spirit of "69"

The 1969 EAGLE was a beginning. With four returning staff members and five new faces, the 1969 yearbook staff pursued the "more modern look." The new look was carried out on colorful candids.

This called for work. The production capacity of the staff was amazing. There were ups and downs and the production required many willing, determined workers.

It was a diversified crew that made the yearbook a reality: editor, associate editor, assistant editor, business manager, section editor, photographers, and numerous students who helped with odd jobs. It took many hours of extra work at times when no one seemed to have an hour to spare. The efforts were pooled and plans become reality. The 69 EAGLE rolled off the press!

The Eagle Beacon Staff, manned by a novice crew, received wide recognition for its efforts. Providing an image for the school, the staff used the "school as a city" method of producing the newspaper. Several staff members supplied the metropolitan press with school news.

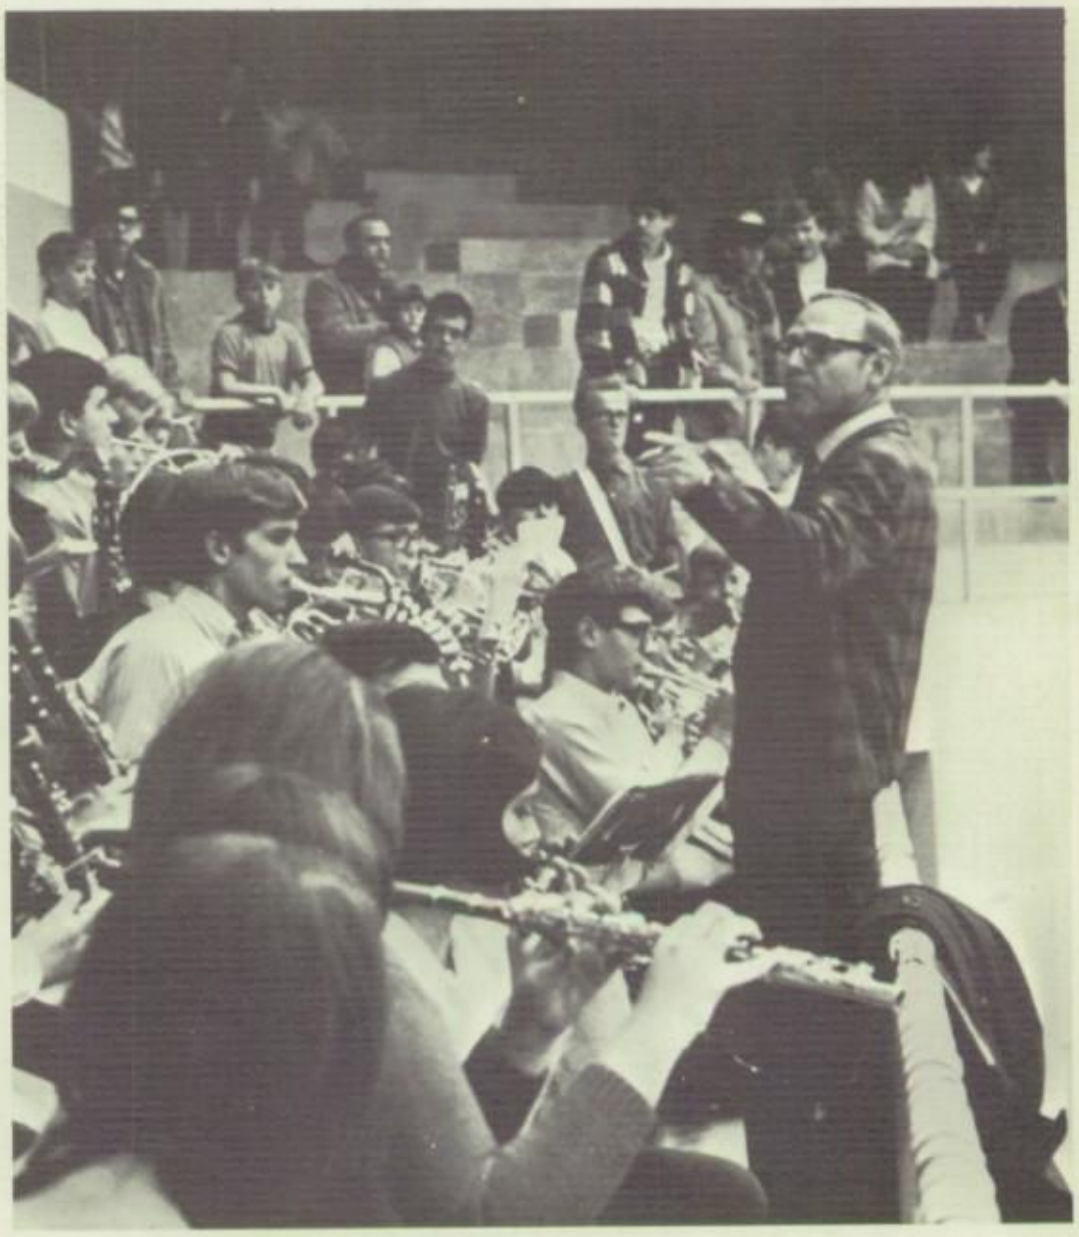
Band

Band Promotes School Spirit and Provides Entertainment for DCHS

Throughout the year, the band functions as an active and exhilarating representation of our school. At home athletic events, enthusiasm is engendered by its spirited music and well-presented half-time shows.

The community has come to rely upon the band which is proud to march in local parades and to perform at the festivities of neighboring communities.

The concert band played popular and classical music for the concert held in December. For the climax of the evening, Pat Mitchell was crowned Band Queen by the band president, Mike Graham.



The band plays a loud fight song to support the basketball team.

Pep Club Highlights School Activities

Our Eaglette Pep Club generate spirit and enthusiasm for all athletic events and promote a feeling of pride in Del City High. Eaglettes are very energetic in supporting all projects and organizing work parties to make decorations in the halls. New members are welcomed into the club at a tea. The club sponsors several after-game dances.

Eaglettes sell spirit ribbons, basketball pins, and seat cushions during school and at the games. Favors for the athletes are also made to help boost their school spirit.

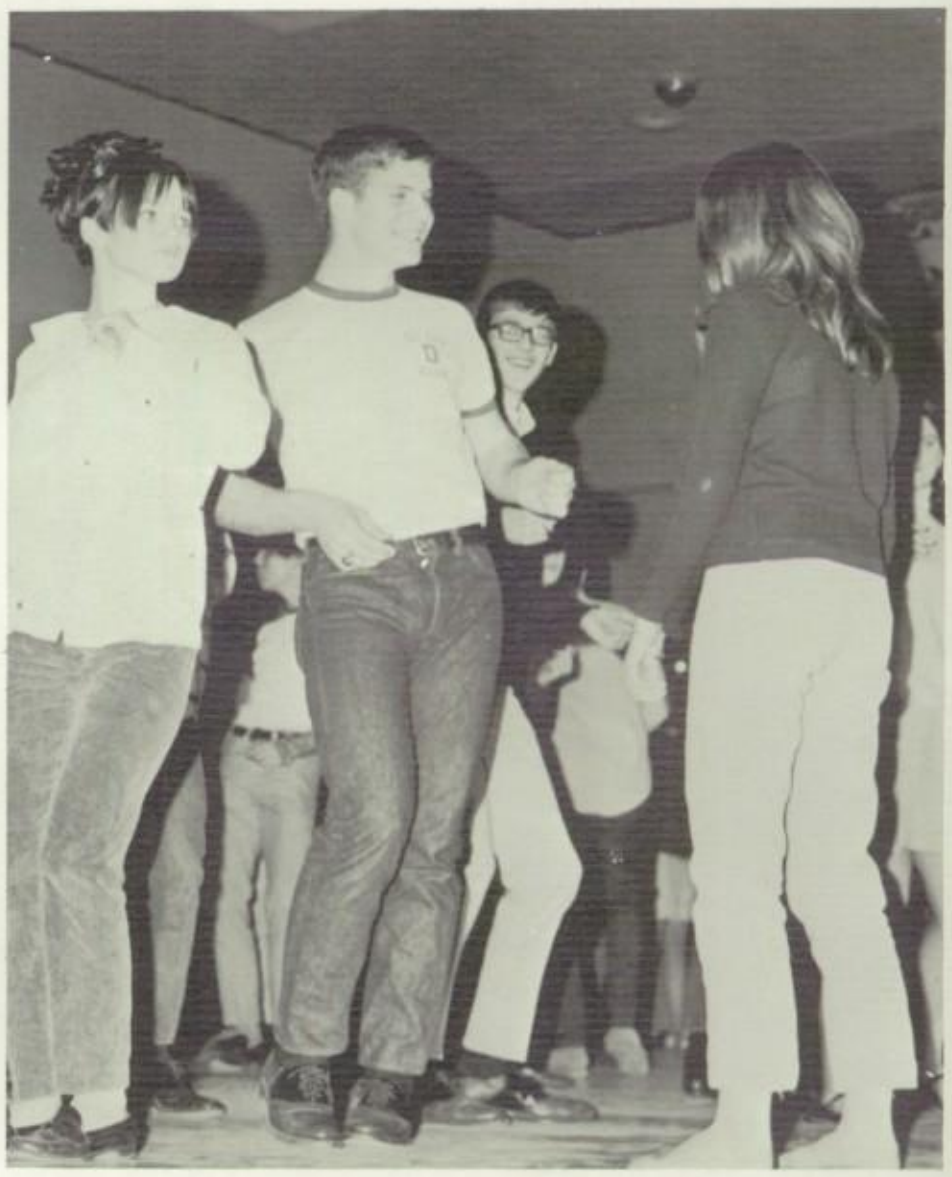
Lizards

Boys' Pep Club Formed

Being its first year in existence, the Lizards has been one of the most active clubs at D.C.H.S. Its conception began with the small nucleus of twelve students and rapidly grew to thirty-three members. The objectives of the Lizards are to support the Eagles in all endeavors and to engender spirit and new life into the atmosphere at D.C.H.S. The uniqueness of this club is that it is the first all male booster club in DCHS's history.

Football, basketball, and wrestling are some of the many sports in which 'D' Club members participate.

'D' Club members can claim that their members help to fill the trophy case.



Dean Rhodes shows by his expression the immense pleasure of being at a 'D' Club dance.

'D' Club

Lettermen Practice Good Sportsmanship

Keeping the interest in the field of athletics, the D Club stands on the basis of good sportsmanship. The purpose of this honorary club is to promote the athletic program at Del City and to achieve and maintain good sportsmanship whether the games are won or lost.

Membership in the club is granted to boys who letter in one or more sports. This provides a reward for the many long hours of practice after school. Being a member requires hard work, effort, and a willing spirit.

The members of the D Club uphold the basis of the Eagle Creed. This is to respect teammates, to play their best at all times, to be good sports, and to respect the opponents.

To raise money for the end of the year trip, the D Club members sold fire works during the summer and sponsored a dance.

Key Club

Club Serves Community and School

Key Club is a school service organization sponsored by the Del City Kiwanis Club. Its members are boys who have displayed outstanding leadership ability and high scholastic achievement. Membership is by recommendation by the faculty.

Key Club members are always eager to help with any community project. Mr. A. J. Evans helps the members coordinate their plans and is always willing to give them advice.

This year the Key Club has sponsored a Radio Day in order to raise money for the organization. The Key Club also helped Mr. Paul Focke restore the Del City High School marquee. They helped out during Pancake Day festivities. They try to sponsor programs and projects that will serve the student body.

Through the activities of these young men, new leaders will be produced. To help these young men realize their civic and national responsibilities is the main objective of this club.

FBLA

Training Provides Opportunities for Tomorrow

The club has been an integral part of high school for many years. Because F.B.L.A. is a national organization, all members are to be registered, and clubs are to meet certain requirements set forth by the National Future Business Leaders of America.

F.B.L.A. fosters activities to increase skills and offers worthwhile experiences for students planning a career in the business world.

Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Work for Christian Goals

Combining service with personal growth and recreation, Hi-Y, under the auspices of the YMCA, progresses toward its Christian goals and understanding of human problems.

The members study and perfect the use of parliamentary procedure according to ROBERTS' RULES OF ORDERS.

Tri-Hi-Y maintains the motto of the club—to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The Lake Murray Conference was the highlight of the Tri-Hi-Y year.

Members enjoy many hours of recreation at the YMCA and assist the YMCA in many fund drives.

During the year the Tri-Hi-Y stays busy making preparations for the Sweetheart Dance. The dance is always given in order to celebrate St. Valentine's Day.

The Hi-Y is a part of a world organization to raise money for missionaries, machinery, and much needed food and supplies.

AFS

D.C.H.S. Sponsors Max Oyola From Peru

Max Oyola was the student sent to Del City as a senior from Peru. The AFS family is the family of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Griffin.

During its second year at Del City, the American Field Service program has put two foreign exchange students through one year of American high school. The intention of the club during the year is to improve community awareness of the foreign exchange program and to furnish funds for supporting next year's students by selling shares and holding an AFS assembly. The AFS committee is designed to see that the program is continued in the future in our community.

Student Council Promotes Good Citizenship

Although the academic side of school is of primary importance at the high school level, training in good citizenship lies parallel to the "book learning" process. This phase of education is the objective of one truly representative organization in the school, the Student Council.

The belief that experience is the wisest teacher forms the foundation of the Student Council; therefore, Student Council seeks to teach young people to govern themselves and to promote democracy as a way of life through projects. This year the officers and representatives have planned and carried out such activities as a "Howdy Week," a spirit week preceding basketball homecoming, maintaining a bookstore, creating artistic bulletin board displays, a can food drive at Christmas and the Foreign Exchange Students Fund.

Youth for Christ

Members Voice Christianity Throughout the School

Starting out the year with a new challenge, Youth for Christ has a Bible study every Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Club meetings are held every other Thursday night at various churches in our community. Speaking on the subject of the generation gap, an English major from Nigeria spoke to the group at one meeting.

Hoping to start a new tradition, the officers want all members to carry their Bibles with them around school. They feel that carrying their Bibles will show their love and devotion for Christ.

Not having a club last year, the reorganized Youth for Christ increased the membership to more than eighty members.

Discussing the events of the meeting, Kathy Estell, Paul Nicholson, and Beverly Blankenship add to the minutes.

Young Scientists Explore Expanding Field

The objectives of the National High School Biological Honor Society are to promote a better understanding of biology and to arouse an interest in biological research. Educational movies, stimulating field trips, discussions, and interesting lectures aid in accomplishing the aims. The club is an organization for those who are interested in science and who wish to explore extra-curricular advantages of this vocation.

Thespians

Stars of Tomorrow Twinkle on Stage

Thespians is an honorary club for students who have completed required amounts of theatrical work. Members appear in school plays, talent and variety shows, and in special presentations.

The Thespians who participate and excel in productions are honored at an annual banquet given at the end of the year.

The primary goal of the organization is to gain useful experience which will be helpful for the many different aspects of entertainment and theatrical work.

Helping students to realize their responsibilities to society is one of the goals of Red Cross.

The year's activities included presenting an assembly to explain Red Cross, to promote the spirit of good will in the school, and to instigate programs that expand the Red Cross. Informing the students and enlisting their support helps the Red Cross to serve its school, state, and nation.

Speech

Original Production Presented

With all the pomp of a professional troup, the Del City High School drama department presented Mr. Troy Caswell's "Last of the Tudors." Mr. Caswell, a member of the faculty and head of the drama department, has had two one act plays published: "The Next Move" and "Here Comes the Groom."

Headed by two talented students, Beverly Stone as Elizabeth and Charselle Hooper as Mary, the play portrays the internal struggle for power for the English throne between the daughters of King Henry VIII. Set in the early Elizabethan period, the play illustrates this struggle at its highest point and with its eventual end with Elizabeth's taking over.

The season was completed by the presentation of "Oklahoma" and "The Imaginary Invalid." The drama department truly added to the cultural environment of our DCHS students.

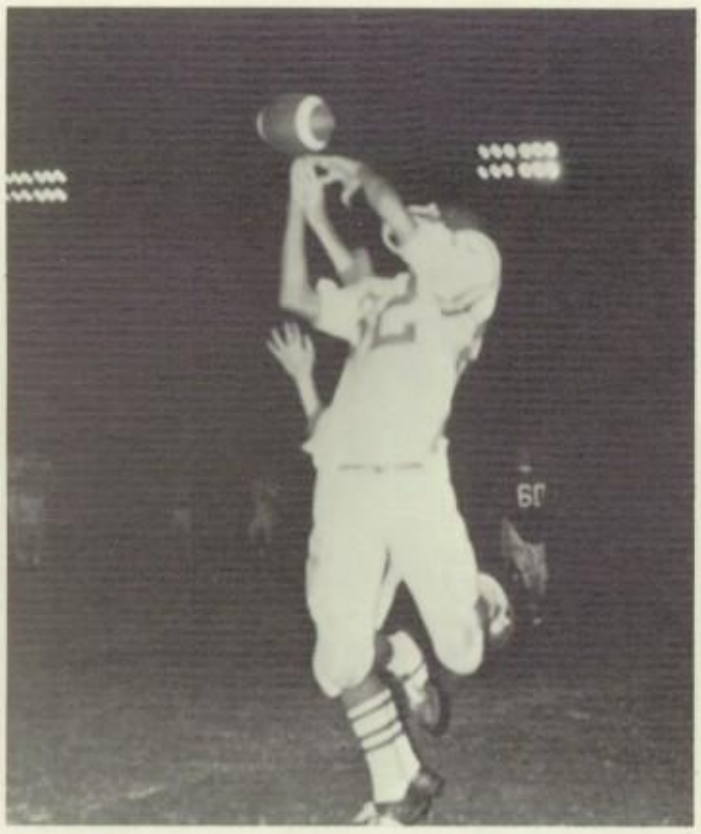
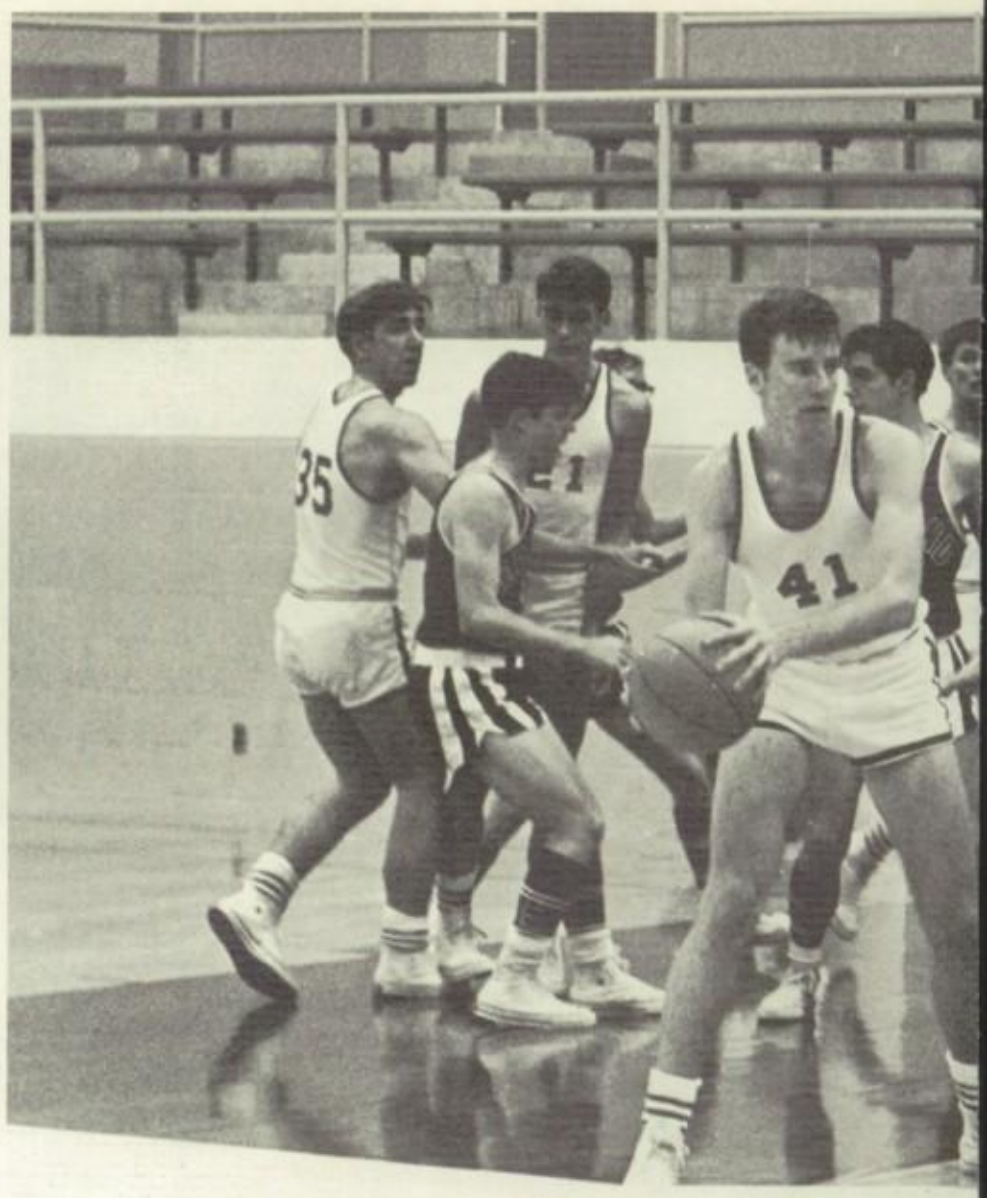
NHS Membership Increases With School Enrollment

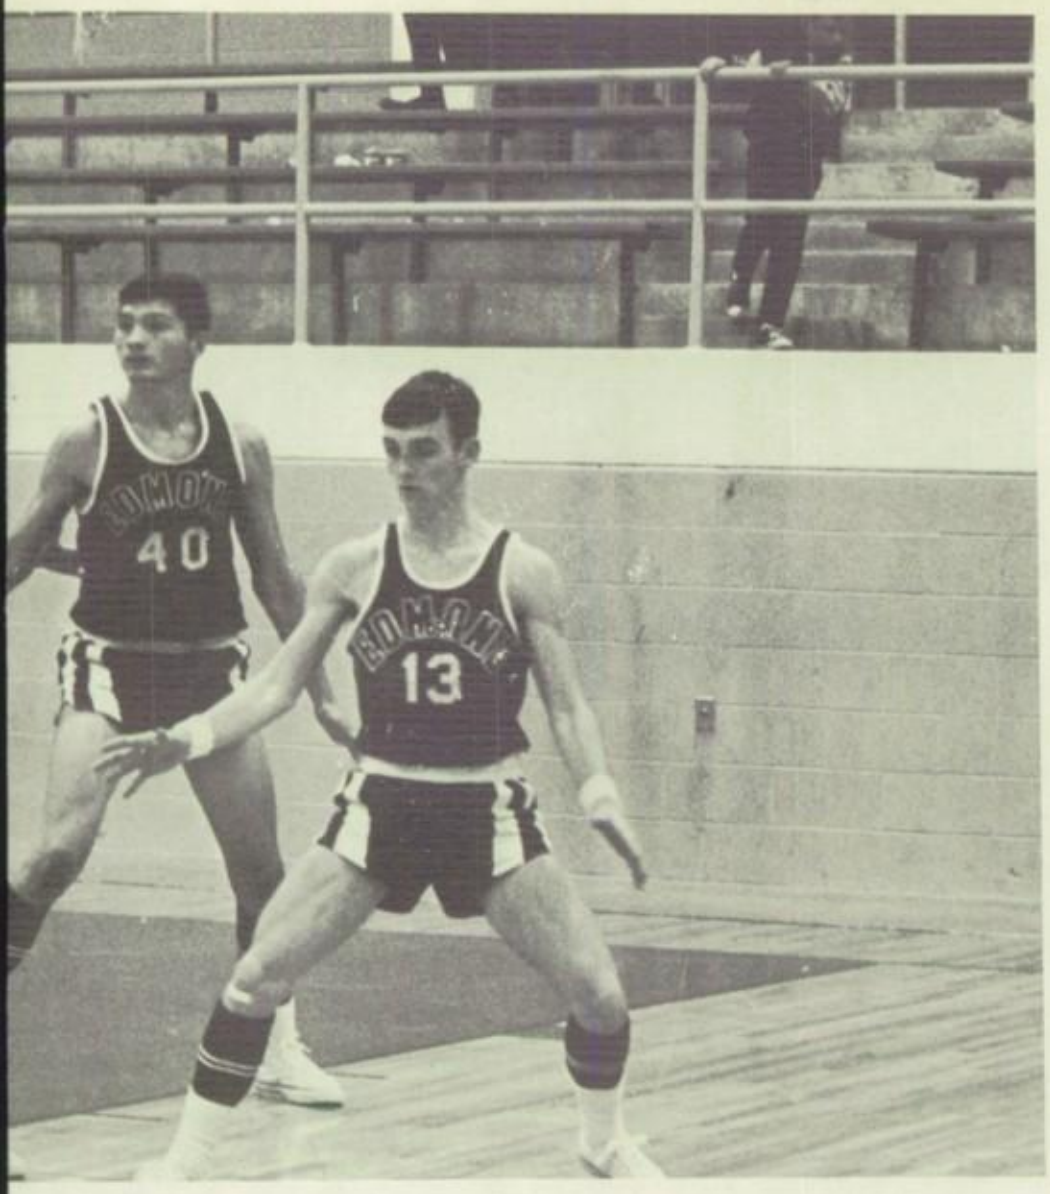
February 27, 1969, more than a hundred and twenty-five students received certificates of membership into the National Honor Society. The reception was held in the fieldhouse. A luncheon was held at Glenn's Hickory Inn.

Those who were initiated into the society, were the top fifteen per cent of the senior class, top ten per cent of the junior class, and the top five per cent of the sophomore class. The four points considered in the club are scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

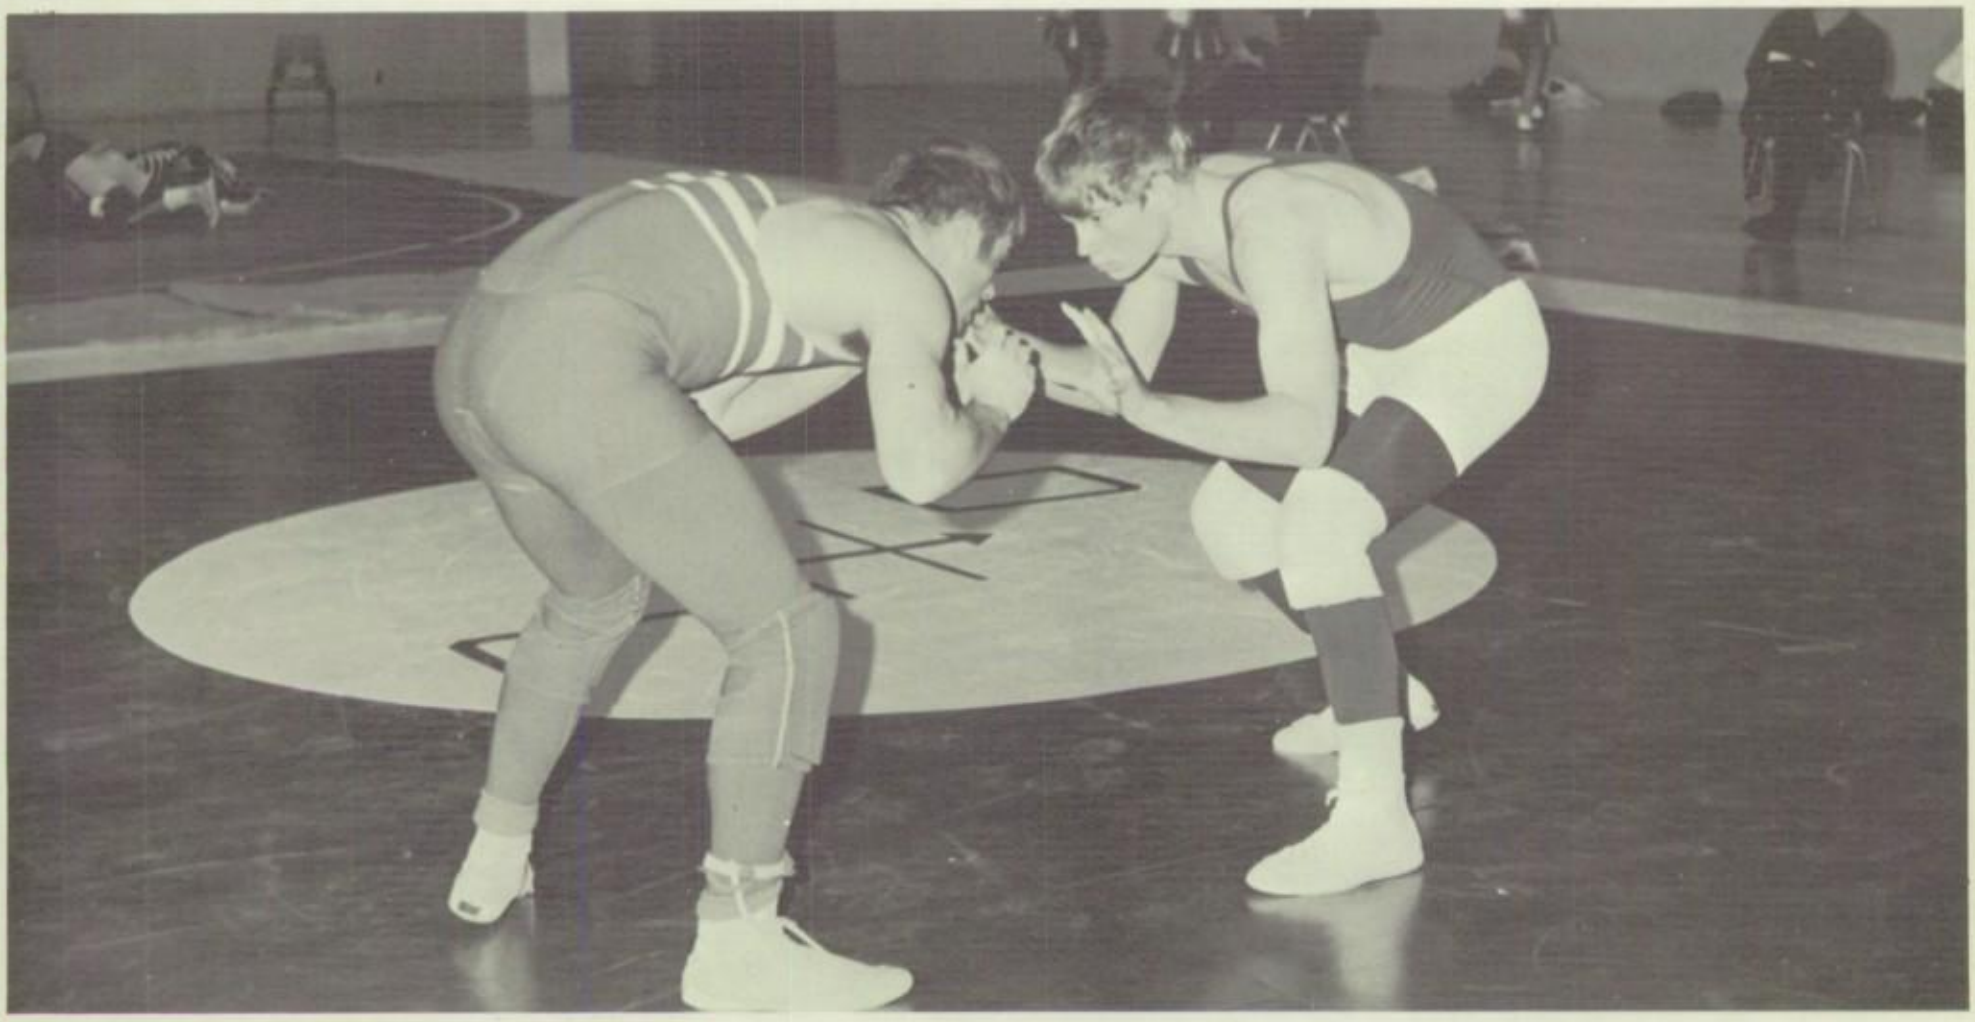
For consideration for membership in the State Honor Society, a student must be in the upper ten per cent of the total school.







ATHLETICS



Basketball

Team Puts Forth Special Effort

Basket Ballers, under the direction of Mr. Bill Grove, had a disappointing season this year. The Eagles compiled a record of twelve losses and three wins.

Being rated second in Boomer Conference, the Eagles tried hard to maintain this status. Due to lack of returning players, the team really had to put forth effort to make their record. They steadily gained co-ordination on the court and respect from the spectators for a fine show.

Before the coronation, Suzette Poe glances back prior to her entrance.

Football

Aggressive Defenses Spark Rugged Action

This year was an up-and down one for the Eagles in football. Under the direction of second year Coach Jerry Harris, the Eagles posted a 9-1 record with a forfeit from Lawton Ike. With a number of boys going out for football minimal, the Del City Eagles staged a courageous fight to restore honor and victory to DCHS. With the odds stacked against them, the team's effort seemed with no avail to bring this dream to reality.

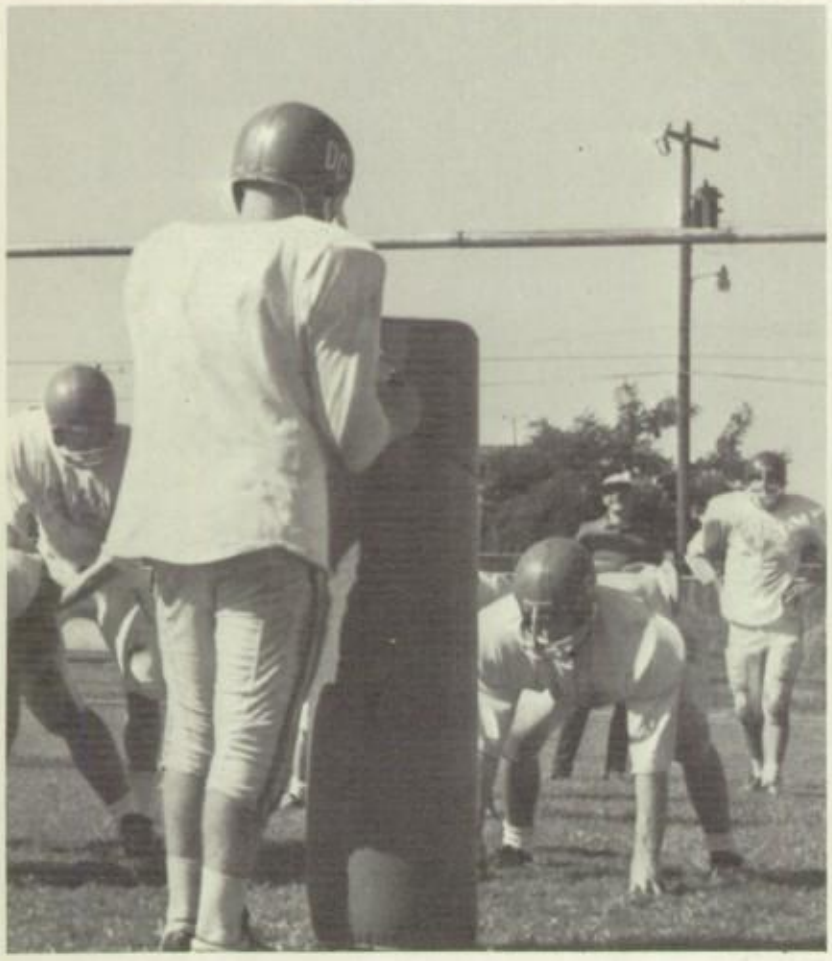
Del City's Football Team Manned by Juniors



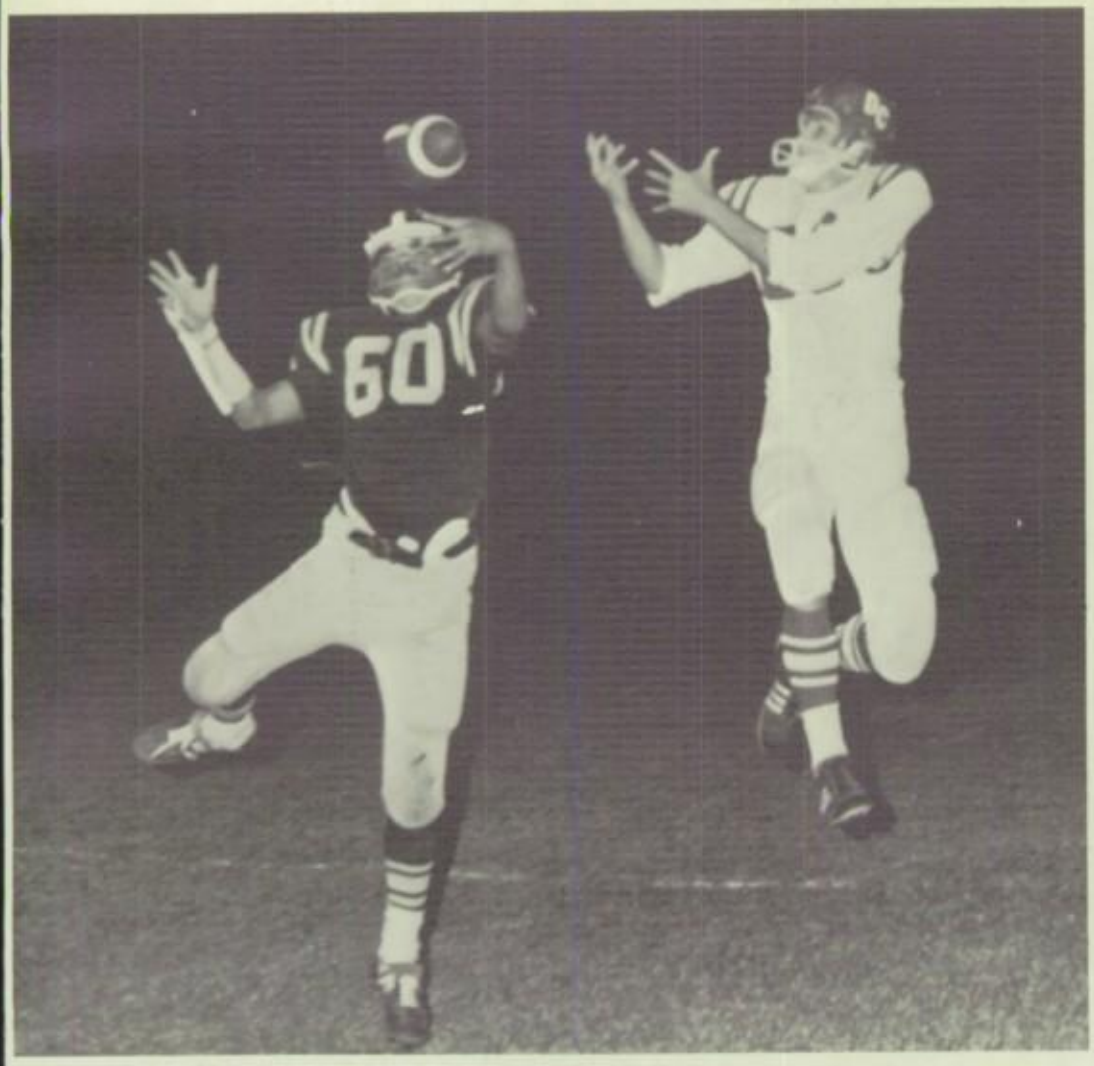
A lot of hard work goes into a day's practice.

Ricky Marsh (37) breaks through the line to gain a first-and-ten for the Eagles.

Mike Swearengin and Larry Howard succeed at getting dirty during practice.

Endeavoring to gain as much yardage as he can for the team, Domer Scaramucci falls into the hands of an opposing team member.

For the highlight of the evening, Gary Williams (80) completes a pass and gains several yards.



Although the pass to Mike Cary (28) was incomplete, Del City put up a rough fight against Lawton "Ike."

After Del City's Homecoming, Linda Willeford recalls happily the events of the day.

Wrestling

Endurance, a Trademark of Del City's Matmen.

Boundless energy, perfect balance, co-ordination, and determination are a few of the necessary qualifications found in a successful wrestling team. Under the coaching of Mr. Don Colston and Mr. Pete Francis, this year's team has lost only three matches. Taking second in Boomer Conference has given the matmen the challenge to compete even harder for State. Top scores for the season were Gordon Back, Don Davies, Steve Ferguson, John Stone, and Lyle Webb. Although the team will lose eight Seniors, the other matmen have the confidence and spirit of a winning team for the following year.

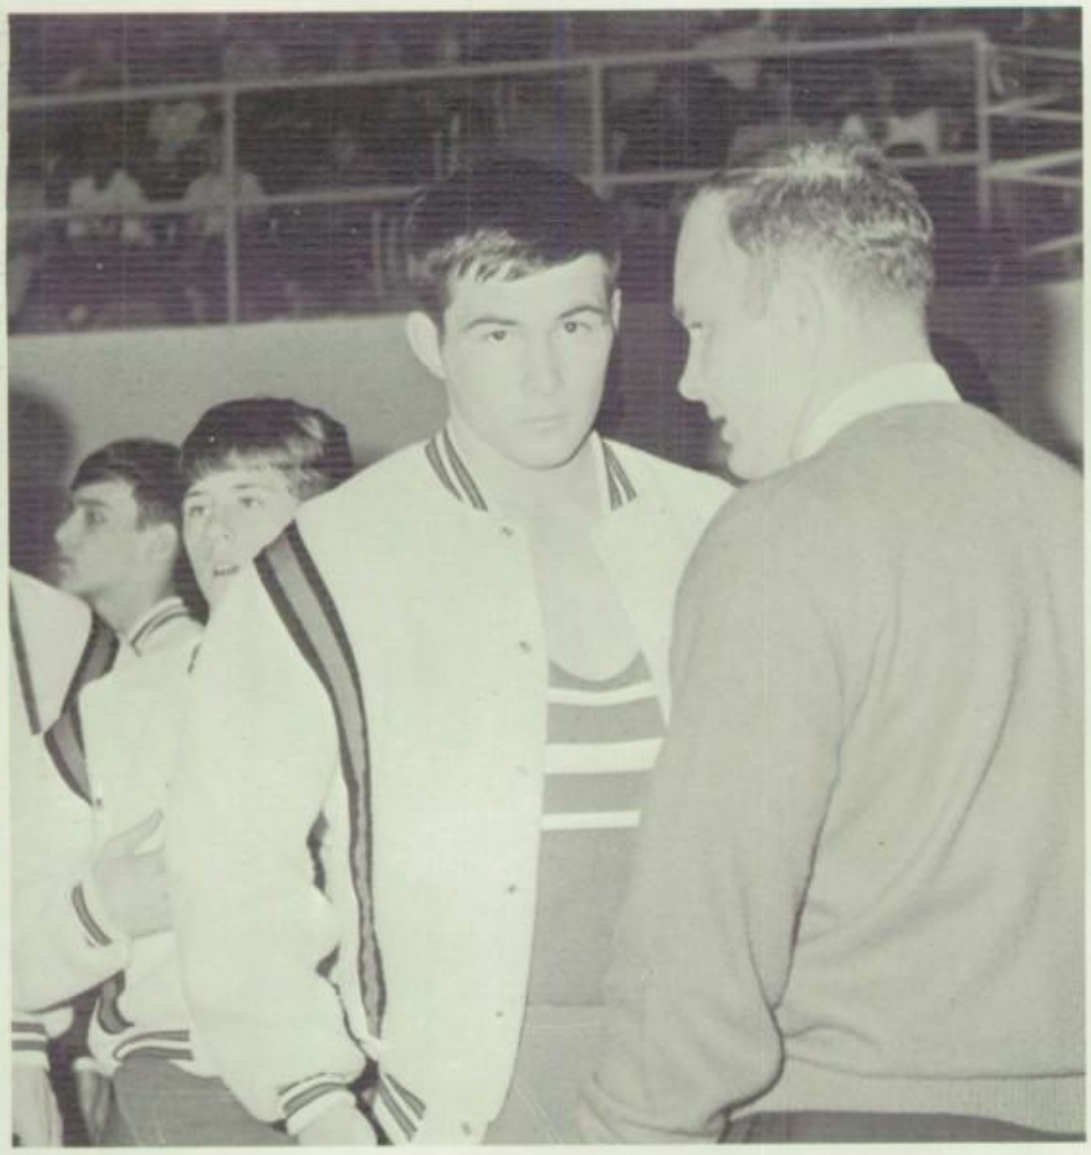
The referee raises Tim Puetts arm to show a victorious meet.



John Stone and Mr. Don Colston discuss last minute preparations before the match.

In the final stages of pinning his man, Larry Thompson struggles to the finish.

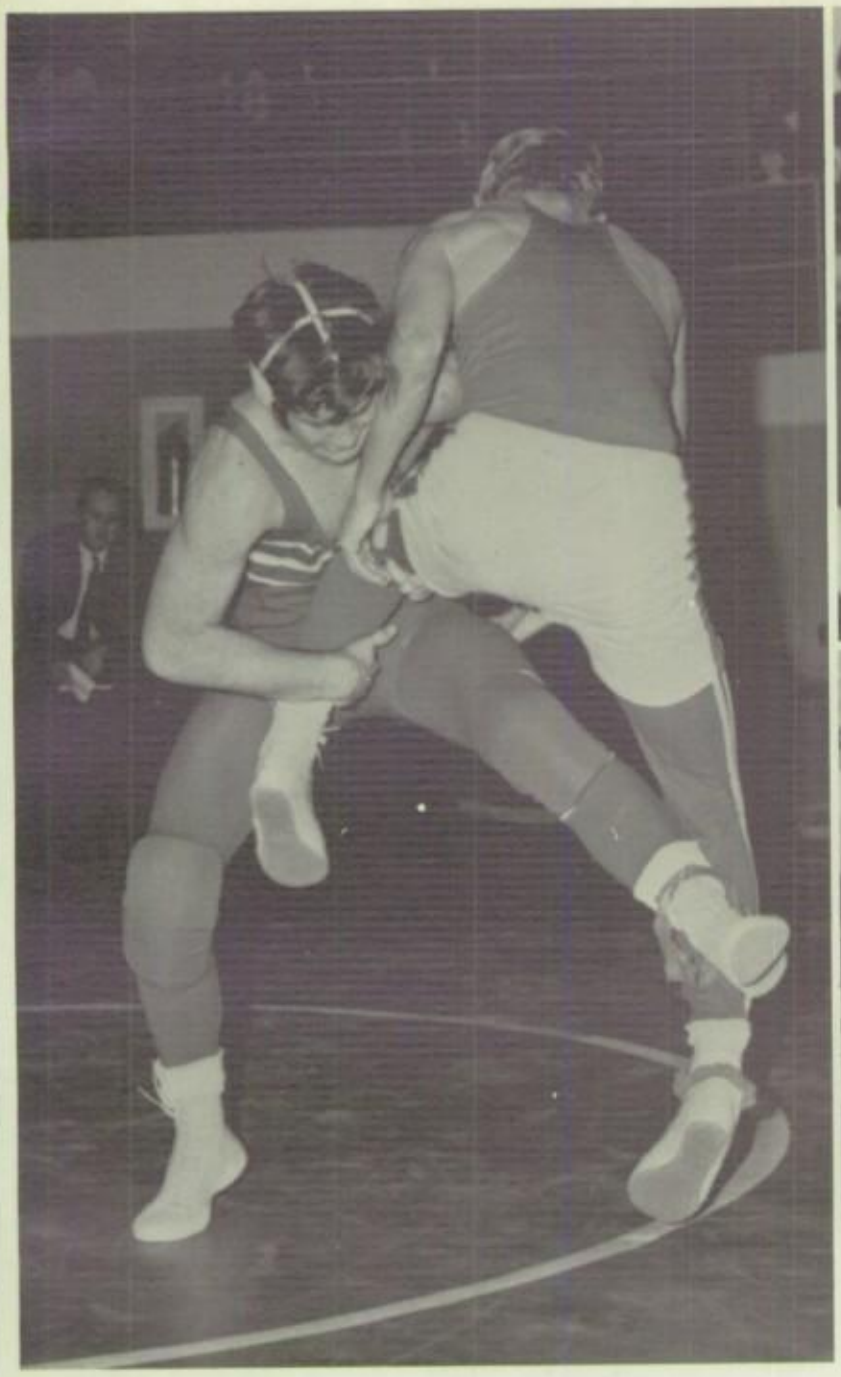
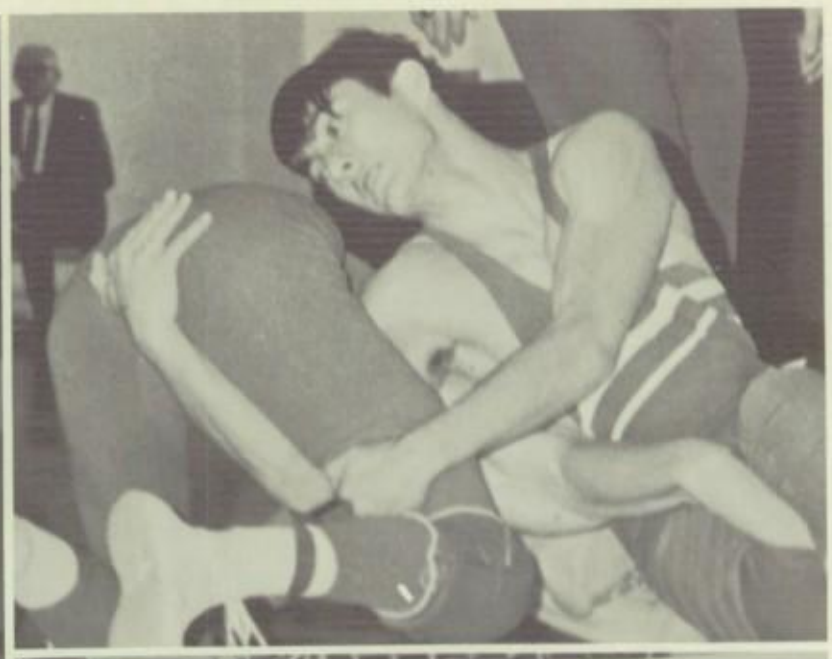
Connie Aldridge—Wrestling Queen

Larry Thompson puts a cradle on his man to put him in a pinning position.



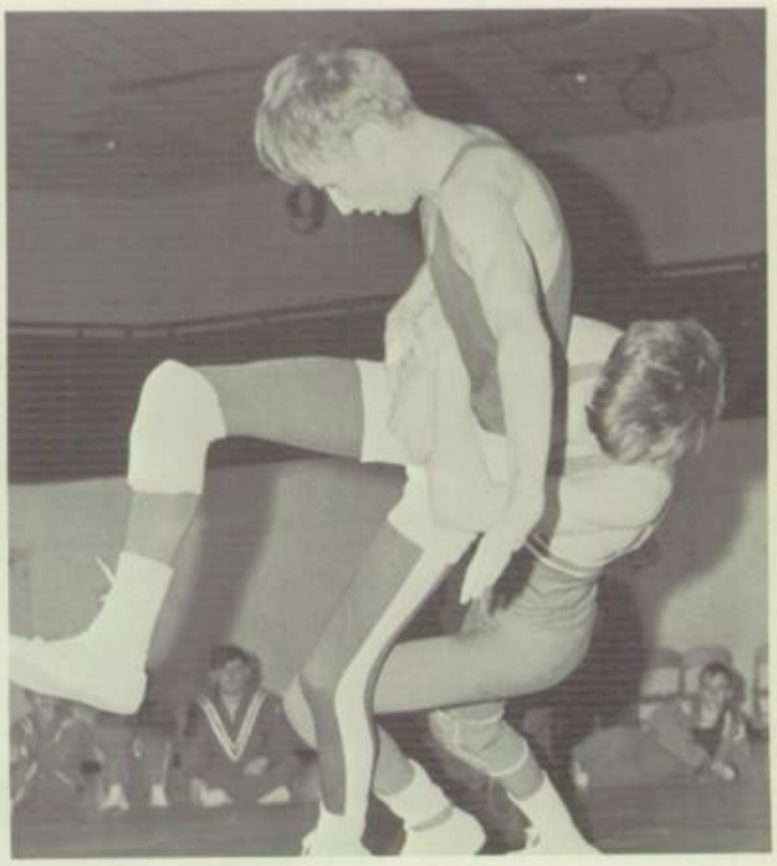
Mike Gatley gains control over a Lawton Ike grappler.



Merle Leech tries desperately to get a reverse.

Sterg Mathis sets up his opponent for a take-down.

Coach Don Colston gives instructions to a Del City wrestler.



Larry Watkins gains two points for Del City after a quick take-down.

Baseball Team Has Full Schedule

Fifteen games were scheduled plus regionals and state tournaments, which made a busy season for the baseball team. Baseballers plan to keep the traditional Boomer Conference Championship under the direction and training of Mr. Duane Crabaugh.

Many team members were in shape by the opening of the season because they participated in football or basketball.

Alan Smith asks Tom Biggers, "Can you believe he hit it that far?"

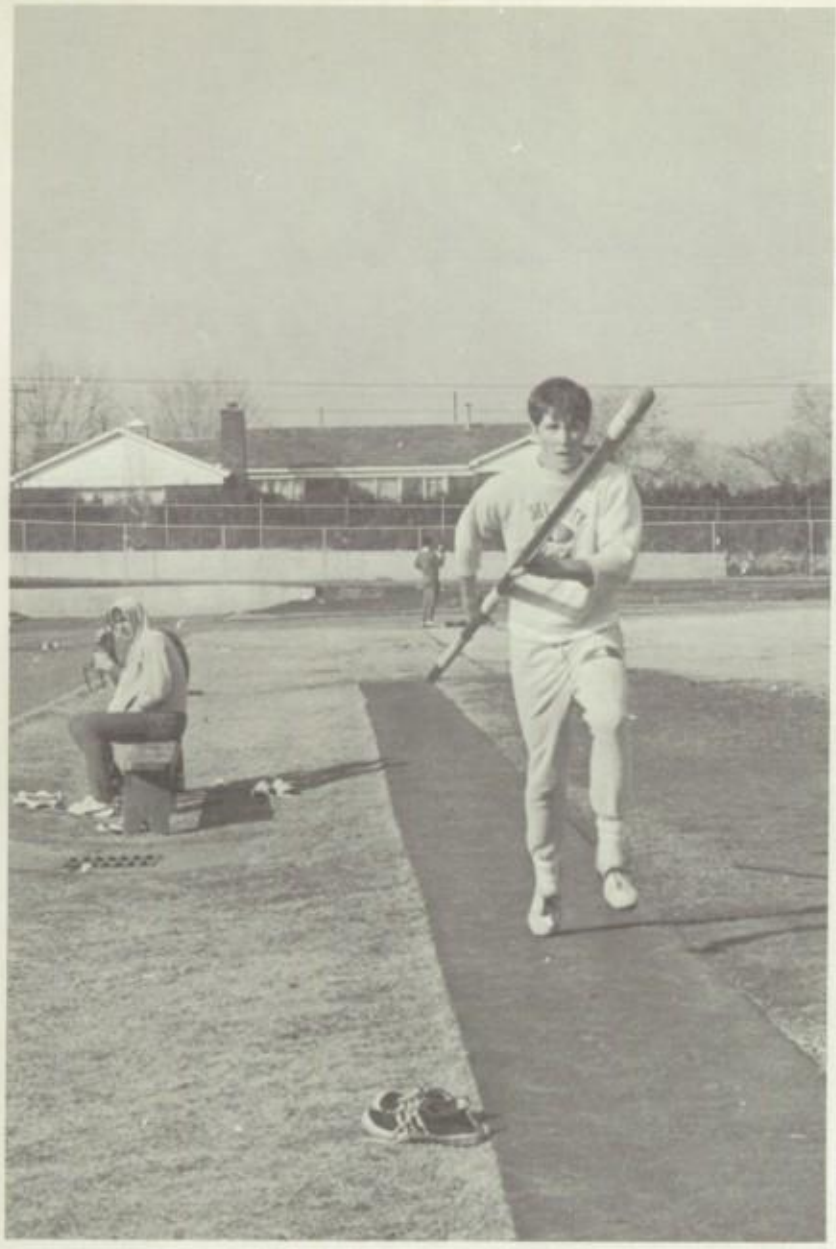
Track Team Finds That Practice Makes Perfect

The most important qualities of a good track team, as demonstrated by the 1969 track season, are speed and efficiency. With the exception of a few seniors, the track team was composed of underclassmen. Under the leadership of Mr. Ron Marvel and Mr. Dan Willet, the team practiced from summer to track season in order for the individuals to break records and show what the advantages of team work are.

Off to a fast pace, Ken Wall, Keith Russell, and Bryce Dorrough aid their relay team into a practice session victory.

Jim Young takes off on the three-hundred yard dash with a speedy start.

Jack Wimberly tries desperately to get more footage in a broad jump.



Mike Malone charges down the runway for his pole vault attempt and completes it.

DCHS Track boys learn that the word "track" means running.

Keith Harman prepares himself before he completes his shot.

With a forehand swing, Wanda Livingood returns the serve.

Girls' Team Sports

Girls Excel in Athletics

The first aim of the girl team sports is to promote the expansion of feminine gender by means of athletics. The sports covered in this class are badminton, volleyball, shuffle board, and gymnastics. Each girl is exposed to each sport and then encouraged to play in the sport she most prefers. Among being one of the most progressive programs in this system, the girls do compete with other schools to match their ability and to engender a more competitive spirit. Under the direction of Miss Pat Cousins the girls team sports should advance so that what was considered the male world of sports will be a woman's.

Miss Pat Cousins answers Wanda Livingood's question on ball return.

Pam Miller strikes at the birdie and misses as her teammates watch.

Welda Watson sizes up the ball as Tana Rigsby patiently waits for the pitch.

THE 1969 DEL CITY HIGH SCHOOL GOLF TEAM

Pat Mitchell Reigns as Band Queen

Pat Mitchell was selected as the Del City Band Queen. The band members, through their voting, proved their belief that Pat had all the qualities that make her an ideal representative of the DCHS band.

The band queen was crowned December 20, 1968, in the high school auditorium. The band president, Mike Graham, was her escort. For the coronation the color theme was red and white.

Administration Maintains High Academic Standards

Mr. Oscar V. Rose and Mr. J. E. Sutton enjoy meeting the D.C.H.S. faculty at the Christmas luncheon.

Mr. Oscar Rose, superintendent of Midwest City Schools, and the school board work closely together with faculties, students, and parents to formulate and to carry out school policies. They work to keep the system in accordance with Oklahoma law and the State Board of Education. They have helped to develop the schools into a progressive and an academically sound system.

Through Mr. Rose's dedicated service, students have been able to shape their curriculum to fit their plans for future employment. The ever-improving excellence of his devoted service and capable administrative abilities have led to the recognition of high standards for the Midwest City School System in Oklahoma schools.

Assisting Mr. Rose in the administration office are Mr. J. E. Sutton, deputy superintendent; Dr. Vernon McAllister, director of personnel; Dr. William Anderson, director of instruction; Mr. Herchel Melton, director of special services; and Mr. William Austin, assistant director of instruction.

The Midwest City School Board members are Mr. Tom Chowning—vice-president, Mr. T. D. Clifton—president, Dr. Tony Thomas, W. P. Butcher—clerk, and Jack Boardman.

Administrators Support Individual Growth

Closely related to the purpose of training the cosmopolitan student body of the suburban community, the principal of DCHS provides leadership, guidance, and assistance to both students and members of the faculty. As principal, Mr. A. J. Evans directs curriculum building and co-ordinates inter-school at public functions.

Students recognize Mr. Evans for his philosophy of placing a high premium on the growth and maturity of the individual. Each student must achieve not only an understanding of himself as an individual but also an appreciation of responsibilities toward others.

Assisting Mr. Evans with the improvement of discipline and regulation of students, Mr. Kenneth Meek capably serves as DCHS vice-principal.

Mrs. Francis Albright efficiently performs her duties as head secretary of DCHS. Mrs. Delores White is in charge of transcripts and attendance. Mrs. Betty Beavers is in charge of the bookkeeping.

Counselors

Patient Guidance Molds New Images

Guidance specialists offer individual counseling, keep complete student records, direct a comprehensive testing program, and supply information to college-bound students. Guidance and understanding make the roles of these counselors indispensable. Many hours are spent in their offices discussing college plans, grade average, and even many personal problems encountered by students each day. Working on schedules, directing testing programs, and evaluating test results keep Mr. Ernest Green and Mrs. Evelyn Thompson busy.

Students Learn to Communicate and Express Themselves

Del City's sophomores study English and American literature and grammar.

Special emphasis on creative writing prepares them for upcoming junior and senior themes. Juniors follow the study course in American literature, grammar, and preparation for college board examinations. A senior reviews grammar and creative writing and studies English literature.

The culture of the foreign countries is stressed in language classes. In laboratories students have an opportunity to compare their pronunciations with the taped voices of native speakers.

Interpreting, duet-acting, radio speaking, and oratory are fields which speech students study in the classroom. Debate students receive first-hand experience in presenting and examining debates. Plays offer drama students opportunities to display their acting abilities.

Students Develop Sound Reasoning Thru Math and Science

Although many of us never master the principles of two plus two, a student at DCHS may go places with math, if he chooses. First year algebra, plane geometry, second year algebra and analyses are offered for those students who are college bound. An over-all course in math is offered to those who wish to steer clear of higher math. However, in this complex and competitive age of computers and space travel, math has become increasingly important to everyone.

No view of DCHS would be complete without the science angle. For those especially clever at manipulating the theory of relativity, or for those just good at getting burned fingers and electric shocks, physics was made to order. Amateur biologists spent hours and hours studying, dissecting and peering through microscopes in hopes to reveal the mysteries of life.

In DCHS'S well-equipped science laboratories, there was never a dull (or quiet, or sweet smelling) moment.

Students Study the Social-Structure of Their Society

Helping students to gain understanding of social, political, economic, and cultural institutions is the aim of Social Science. Acquiring knowledge and understanding of man's past failures and achievements helps students become better citizens.

The Social Science Department brings to our students the fantastic scope of man's existence. Through classes in United States, ancient and medieval, world, and European history, the student receives the basis of today's governments. He receives a knowledge of other cultures and countries, thereby increasing his ability to understand man himself.

The department, under the chairmanship of Mr. Howard Bass, also offers courses in economics and foreign affairs, problems of democracy, psychology, and sociology.

Business

All business education subjects are, without exception, "immediate-use subjects" for personal and vocational use. Many students enrolled in business education classes develop skills to prepare them for entry into the complex business world.

The business classes that are offered for Del City High students are C.O.E., typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business machines, business law, and business English. Mechanical drawing and shop are also offered for those who want to learn a manual trade.

Directing home economics students to a growing realization and appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking in the modern home, Mrs. Pat Lee and Mrs. Patty Daily head the Del City home economics department. The department hopes to develop socially sensitive individuals who see the connection between their profession and society's needs.

The students are instructed in classrooms and newly designed kitchens located in the main hall across from the cafeteria. Here they learn the usual cooking and sewing skills, dressmaking, etiquette, and proper care of household appliances.

Teachers Emphasize the Cultural Arts

Beauty must not be lost in this world of automation. The purpose of art is to inspire people not merely to look, but to see into the life of things. The art department believes that creativity should be a facet of every student.

Health, social efficiency, and culture are the main objectives of the physical education program. This department selects activities which aid in the attainment of these objectives.

This year, Mr. Troy Caswell, head of the drama department, wrote and produced the successful play, "The Last of the Tudors." The play was cast by high school students.

Facilities of the library and service of the librarians are always available to students. Those on the library staff are ready to assist in any way they can.

The cafeteria staff members are (seated) Lenora Tristain, Wanda Gregory, Cassie Kasbaum. (standing) Charlotte Brum, Wanda Past, and Beulah Pinion.

The members of the custodial staff are Mrs. Dorothy Morris, Mrs. Alma Rolston, Nick Warden, Edward Gentry, and Raymond Smith.

Staff Works for Efficiency

Keeping several blocks of corridors clean and 1,400 kids well fed is the goal and duty of the custodians and cafeteria staffs.

The cafeteria staff prepares a variety of menu selections served during the four lunch periods each day. These ladies order supplies and see that all things "foodwise" run smoothly.

Our custodians deserve a great deal of credit for keeping our school in such fine condition. They perform such varied duties as cleaning up after games and dances, mending broken equipment, and making our school one we are proud of. These people are often called upon during the year, and they are always reliable and willing to help.

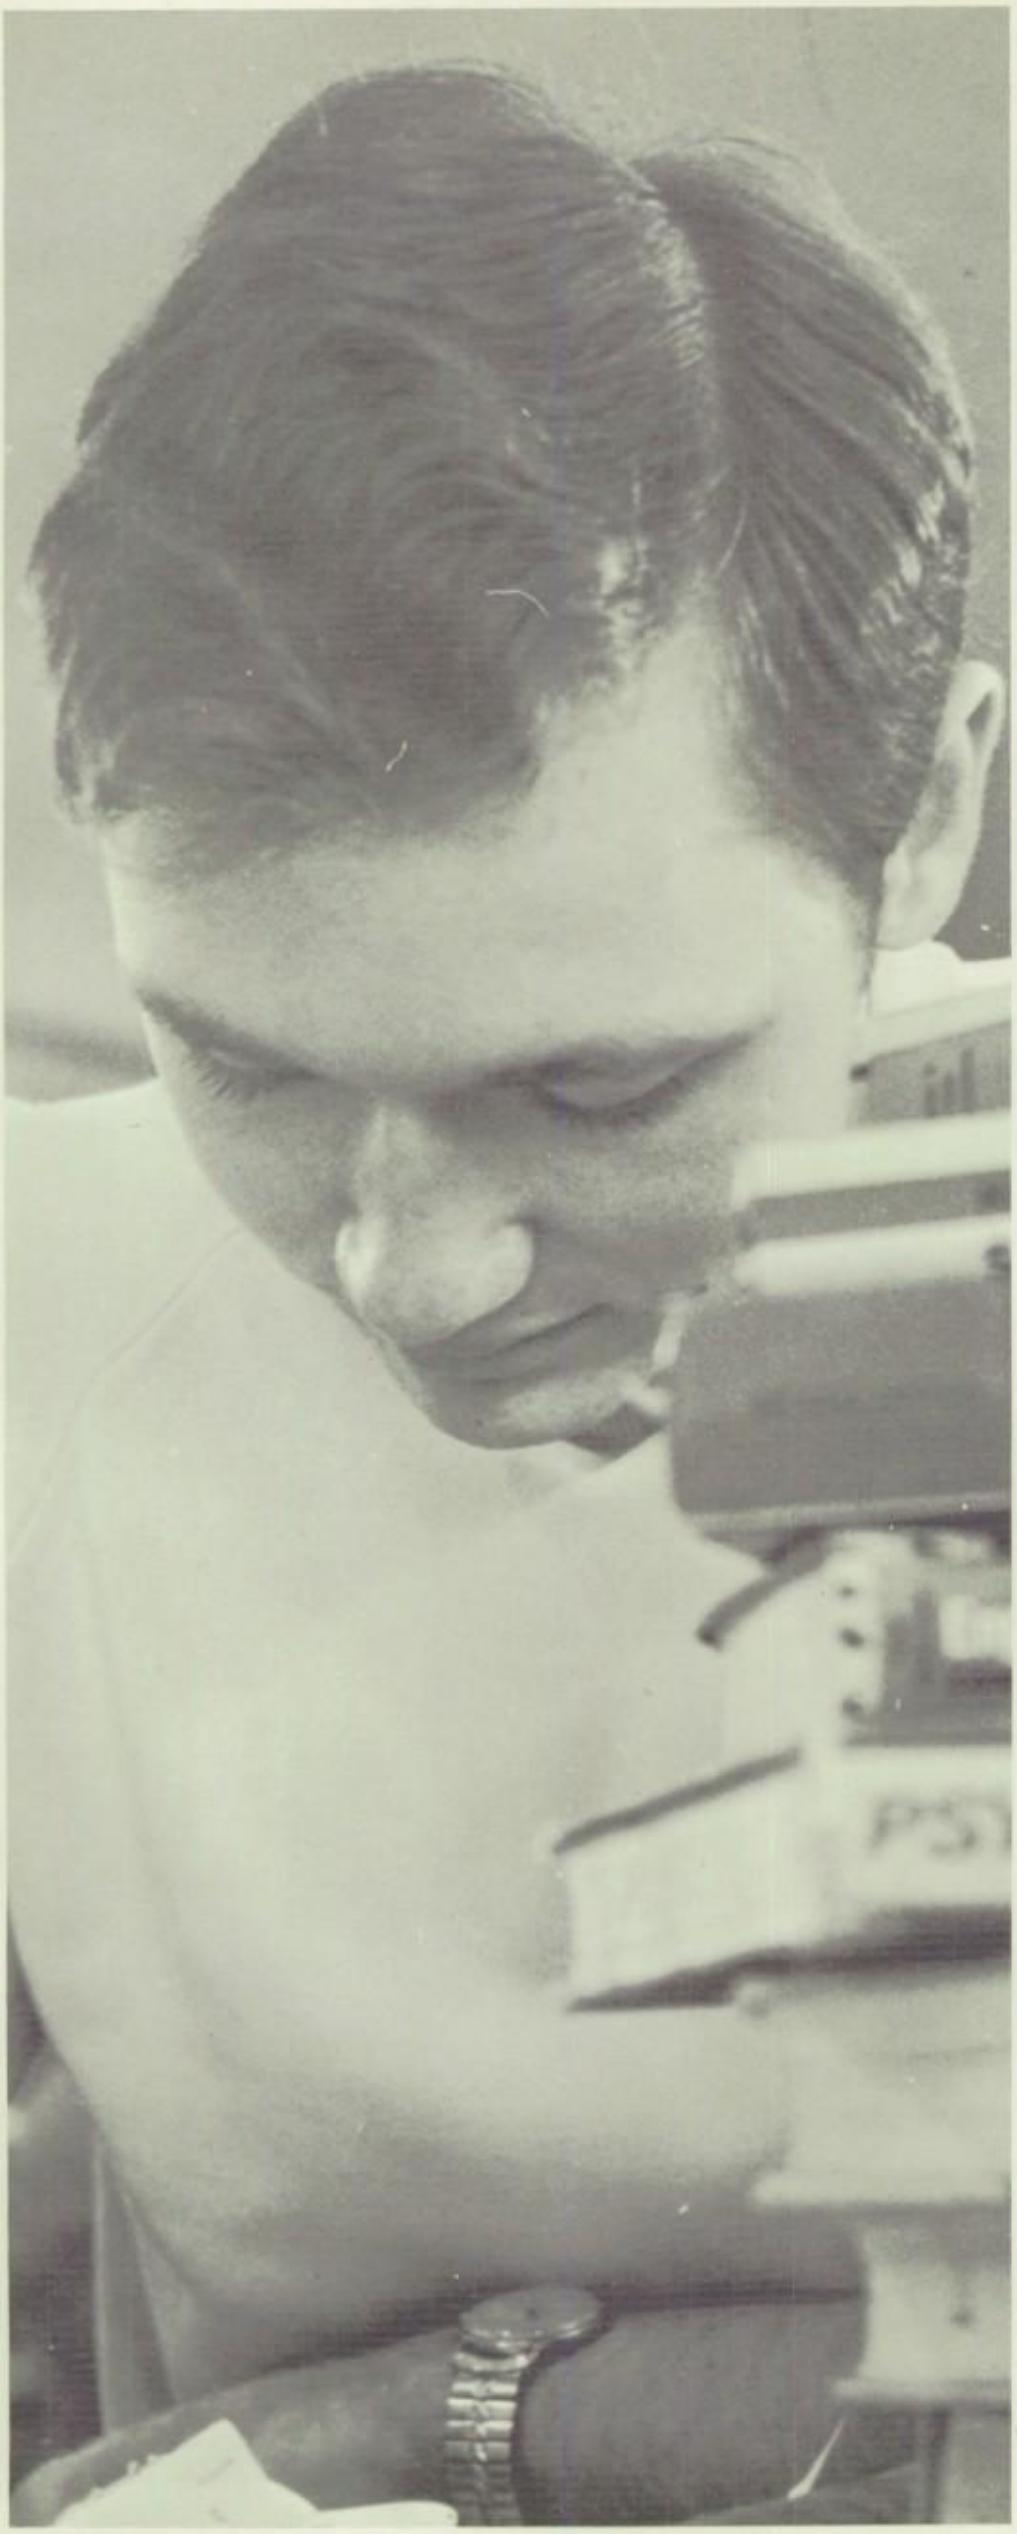
SENIORS
'69



Class of '69 Found Nothing Too Difficult

The class of 1969 entered its senior year with enthusiastic hopes of making this, our last year in high school, an active and profitable one.

Through the year, members of the class participated in school-wide activities, becoming integral members of varsity teams, influential officers of clubs, and participants in all phases of school life.

Commencement announcements were ordered and college applications mailed in anticipation of graduation. The Seniors of Del City High School were truly the leaders of our young generation.

David Self looks cautiously at Mrs. Crooks for advice.

Juniors Class of '70

"No One Ever Can Surpass the '69 Junior Class"

As proud owners of the long-awaited class rings, the juniors plunged into a year of money-raising projects. The main event on the junior class schedule was the Junior-Senior Prom. The juniors were responsible for decorations, entertainment, and the success of the prom.

The junior class enrollment was over four hundred. Several of these students brought honor to themselves and to the school.

The juniors learned that education involves lots of hard work, toiling in classrooms, long afternoons in a science lab, and classes that seemed endless. The juniors learned to appreciate a faculty member who was willing to listen when the going got rough or a classmate who shared a common experience or dilemma.

The Junior class officers—Shermaine Tilly, Secretary; Kaye Spradlin, Treasurer; Jerry Vickers, Vice-President; Randy McBride, Reporter; Danny Allen, President; and Denise Erwin, Parliamentarian.

Royce Coulter hurries to deliver all the mums to his girlfriends.

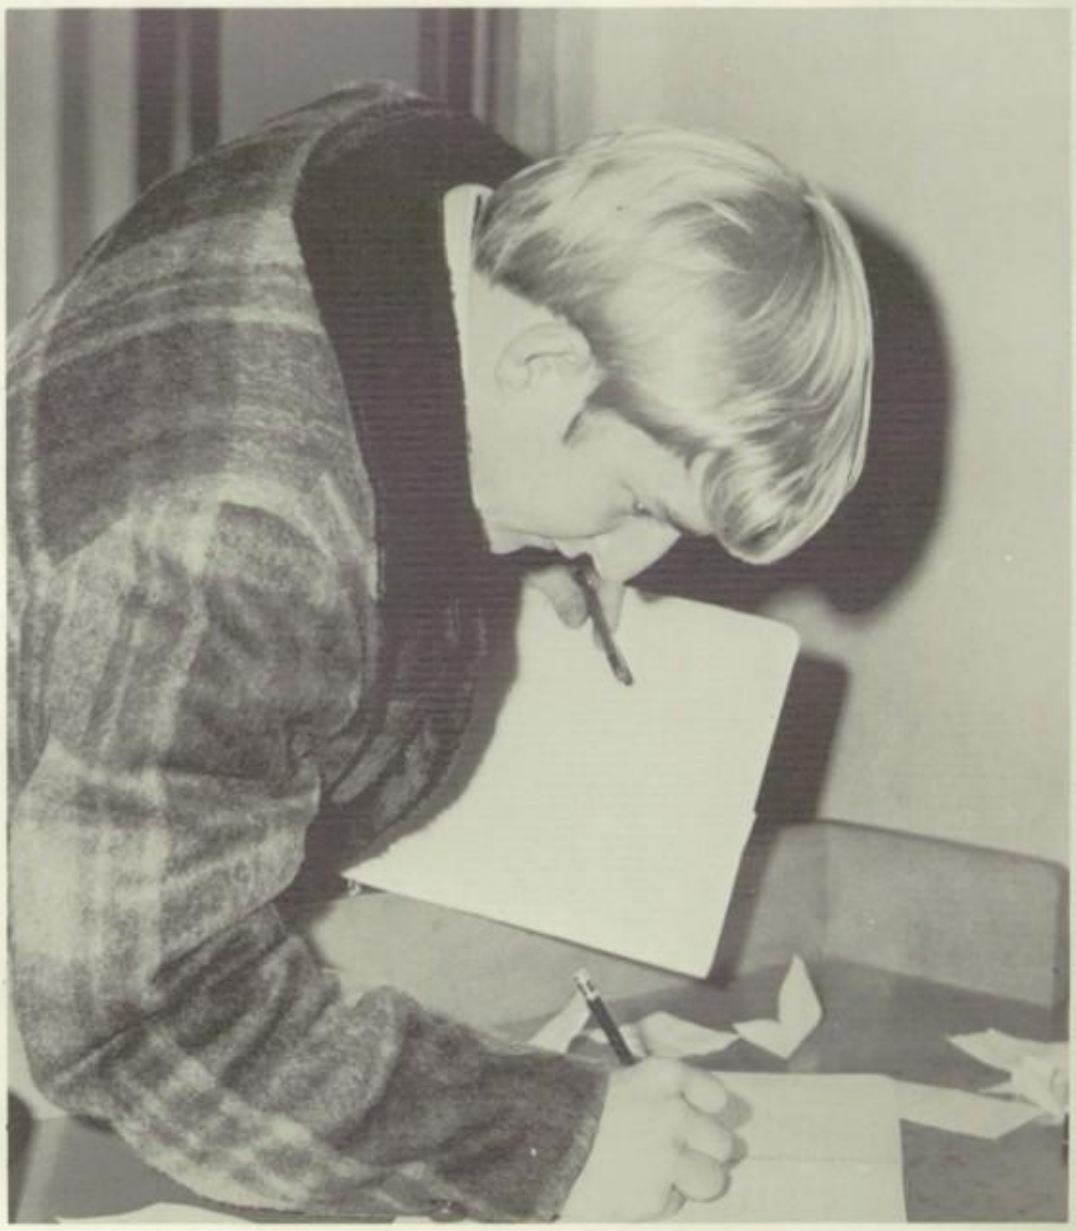
Sophomores Class of '71



524 Sophomores Invade D. C. H. S.

Fired by the traditional underdog rating, the sophomores strived to inherit the respect of both juniors and seniors. With this goal in mind, the sophomore class embarked on the long journey toward graduation.

The sophomores proclaimed loudly and proudly undying loyalty to our school, spirited support for our athletes on the playing fields, and opinions in Student Council. They boldly displayed enthusiasm for school plays, paper drives, and other activities that are so much a part of life at Del City High School.

The sophomores brought to the high school strong leadership and excellence in scholarship. They gained experience and made new friends which they would treasure for the rest of their lives.

Over the noise of the crowd, Elaine Self shouts to Sharon Griffin.

The Sophomore class officers—Debbie Warner, President; Ann Hicks, Reporter; Arthurine Davis, Treasurer; Elaine Self, Secretary; Sharon Griffin, Parliamentarian; and Tim Puett, Vice-President.

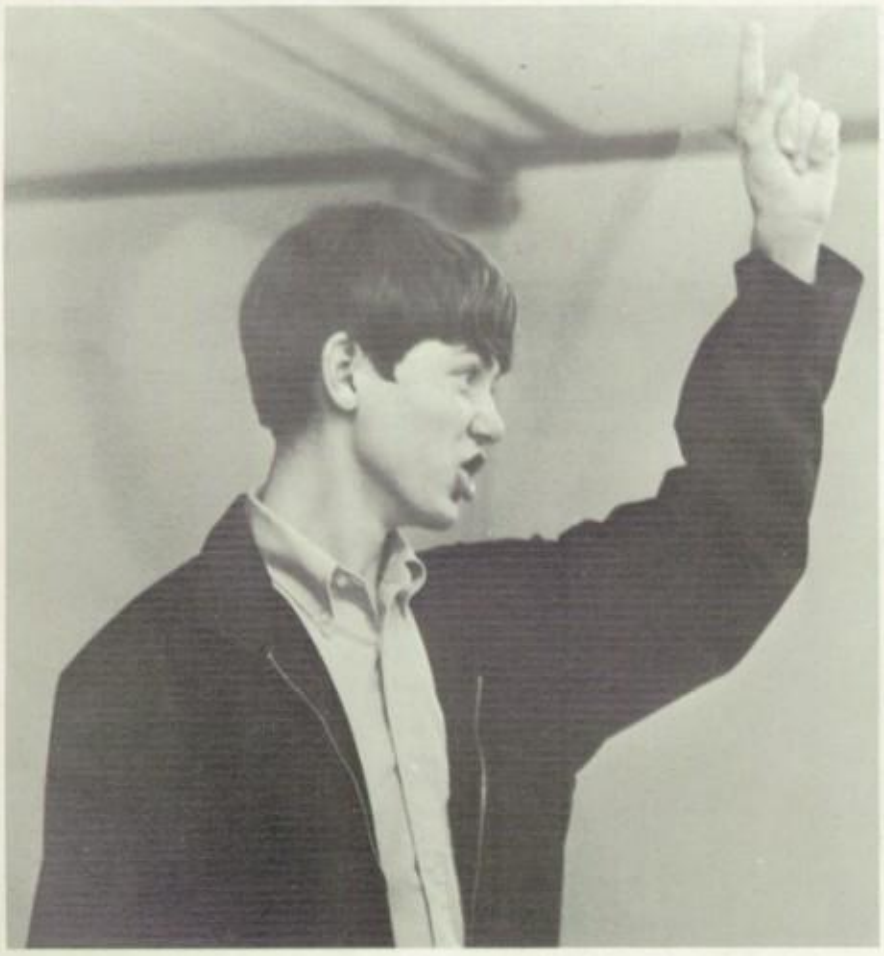
1969 was OUR year!
It was a year filled with fun—
Fun at ball games, dances, and parties.
It was a year filled with tension—
Grandslam homeruns, election results, and tournament action.
It was a year filled with study—exams, homework, projects, and term papers.



Robert Griffin proclaims that there is only one way to do things right!

WE enjoyed more exciting days and new experiences than we had ever dreamed of.
It was a wonderful feeling to know we had actually become a part of the high school.
We were proud that we fitted smoothly into the routine of D.C.H.S.

Sharon Redwine listens as Carolyn Morrison and Debbie Klotz provide guitar accompaniment for Debbie Herman.

After school many students wait impatiently in the school foyer for their buses to arrive.

WE were glad to add pep and enthusiasm to pep meetings.
We were glad to devote boundless energy to sports.
We were glad to participate eagerly in assemblies.
And we tried to cooperate with upperclassmen in all activities.

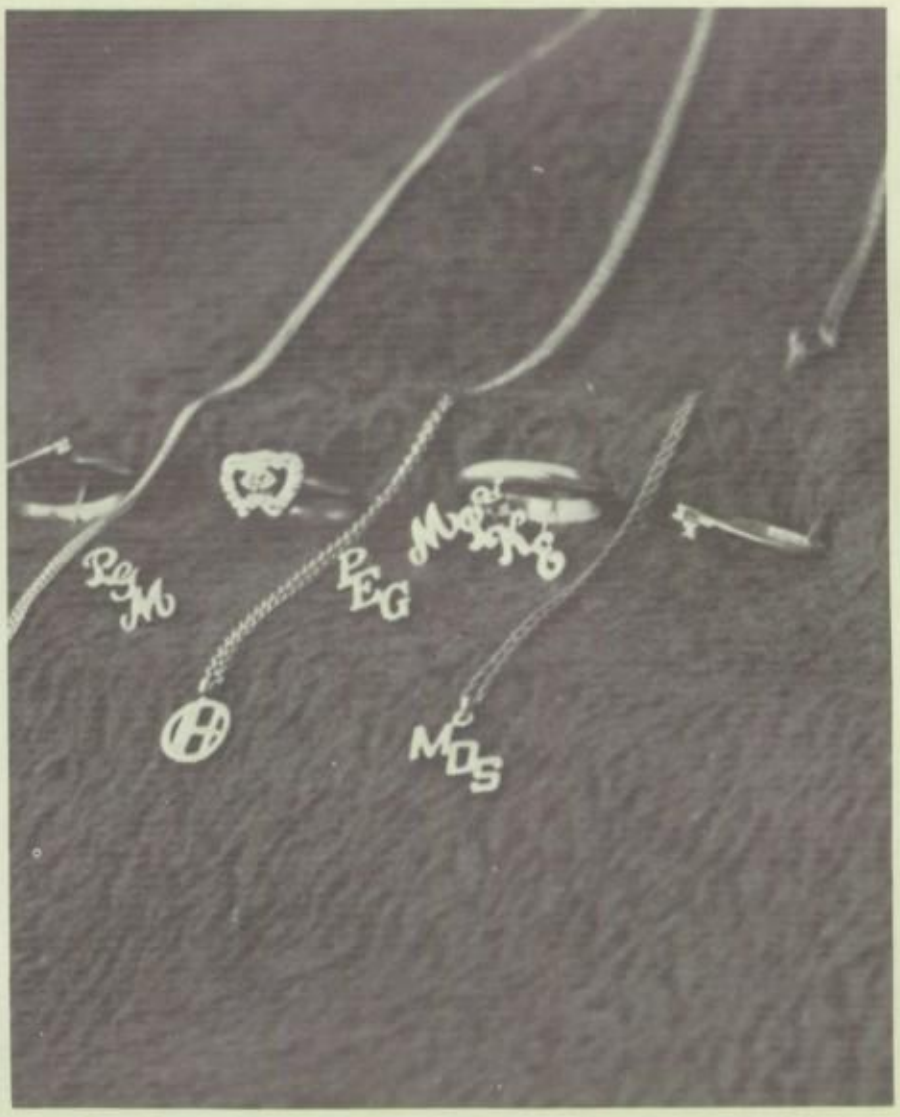
STUDENT LIFE

A year filled with fantasies ...
Of brief encounters ...
Of spirited competition ...
Of fulfilled dreams ...

Tudor Turtle stretches for a one-foot lead.

Jerry O'Pry assists Kathie Barnes in introducing each of the class turtles.

Debbie Warner and Danny Allen plead with their turtles to win the race.



Girlhood fantasies come to reality in the forms of drops, drop pins, sweetheart rings, and promise rings.

Julia Bentley and Ronnie Sims take a final glance at each other before the coronation.

Doug Morris shows the anguish felt after a game lost.

Each day, early and late, more than twelve hundred busy Eagles gather in clusters and crowds ... join in routine daily affairs of classes and clubs ... share work and play, joy and sadness, victory and defeat—all of these moments combine to form the "best" year ever.

Del Aire students show their enthusiasm by caroling as one of their club projects.

DCHS students rally together to show their support for the Eagles.

As we mature we gain a depth of knowledge, experience, and aspiration. The elements which unite to develop the student into an adult are easily seen ... variety found among the students ... unity of teamwork in sports and of the students who backed them ... and the balance between the social and academic life which is attained in school activities.

Rose Hamric records the results of her observation during lab.

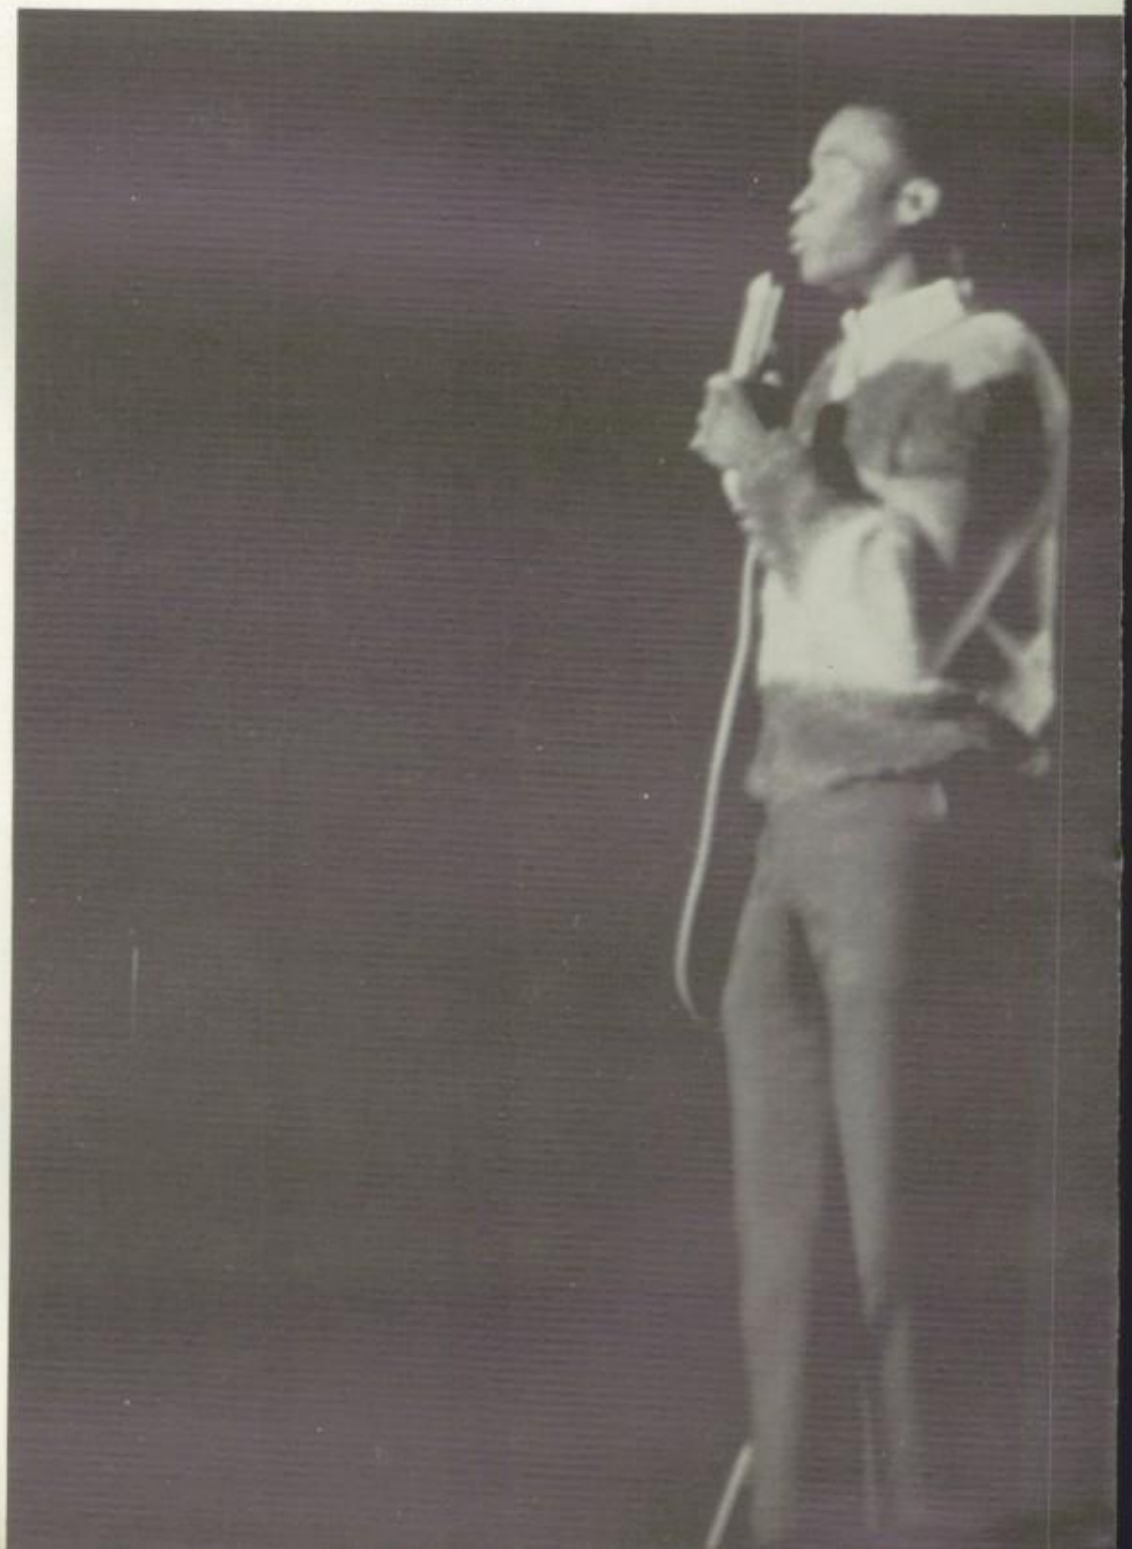
Together Ray McDonald and Debbie Faichney examine the slide rule.

Biology students work hurriedly together to clean their lab equipment.

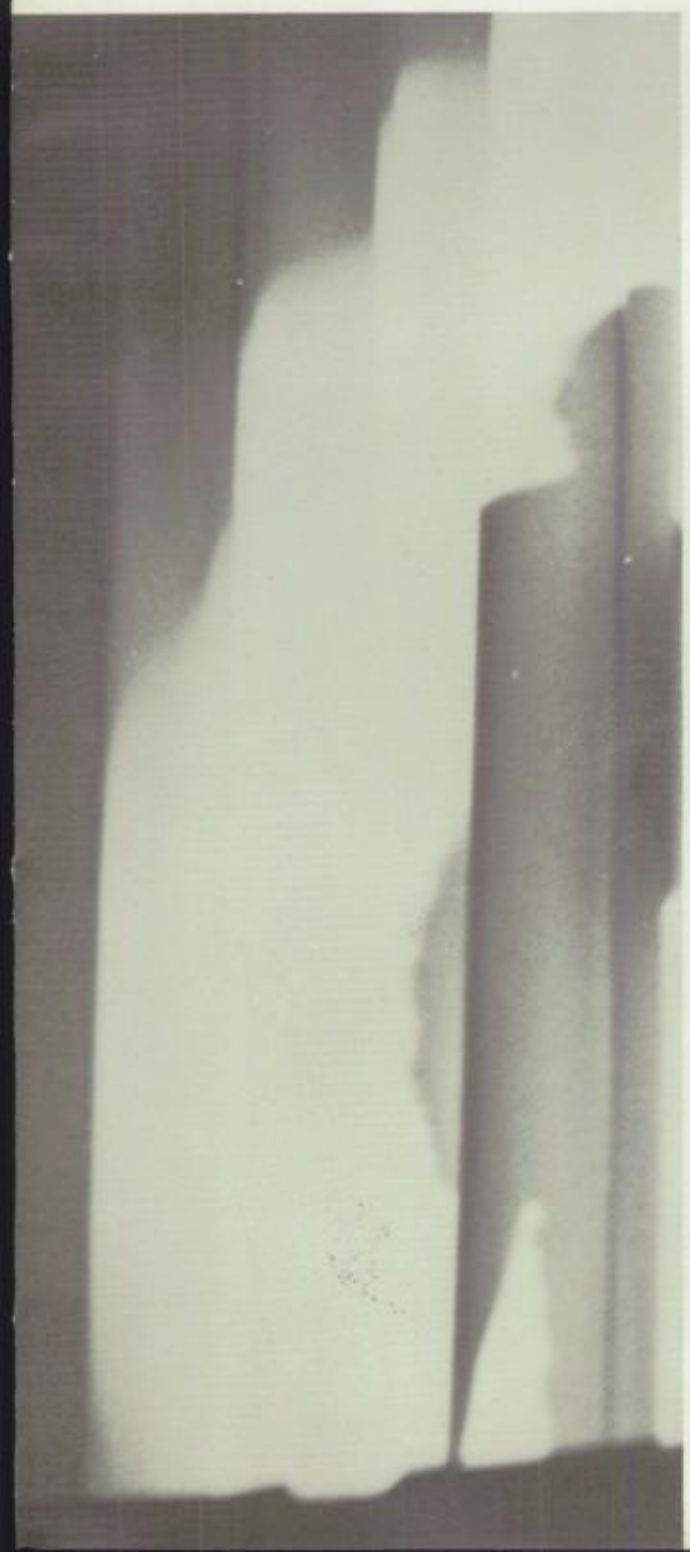
Danny Allen takes a poll from student council members.

Entertainment has many forms ... the happiness of a game ... the enjoyment of working with others ... the pleasure of an entertainer ... the solitude of a silent moment.

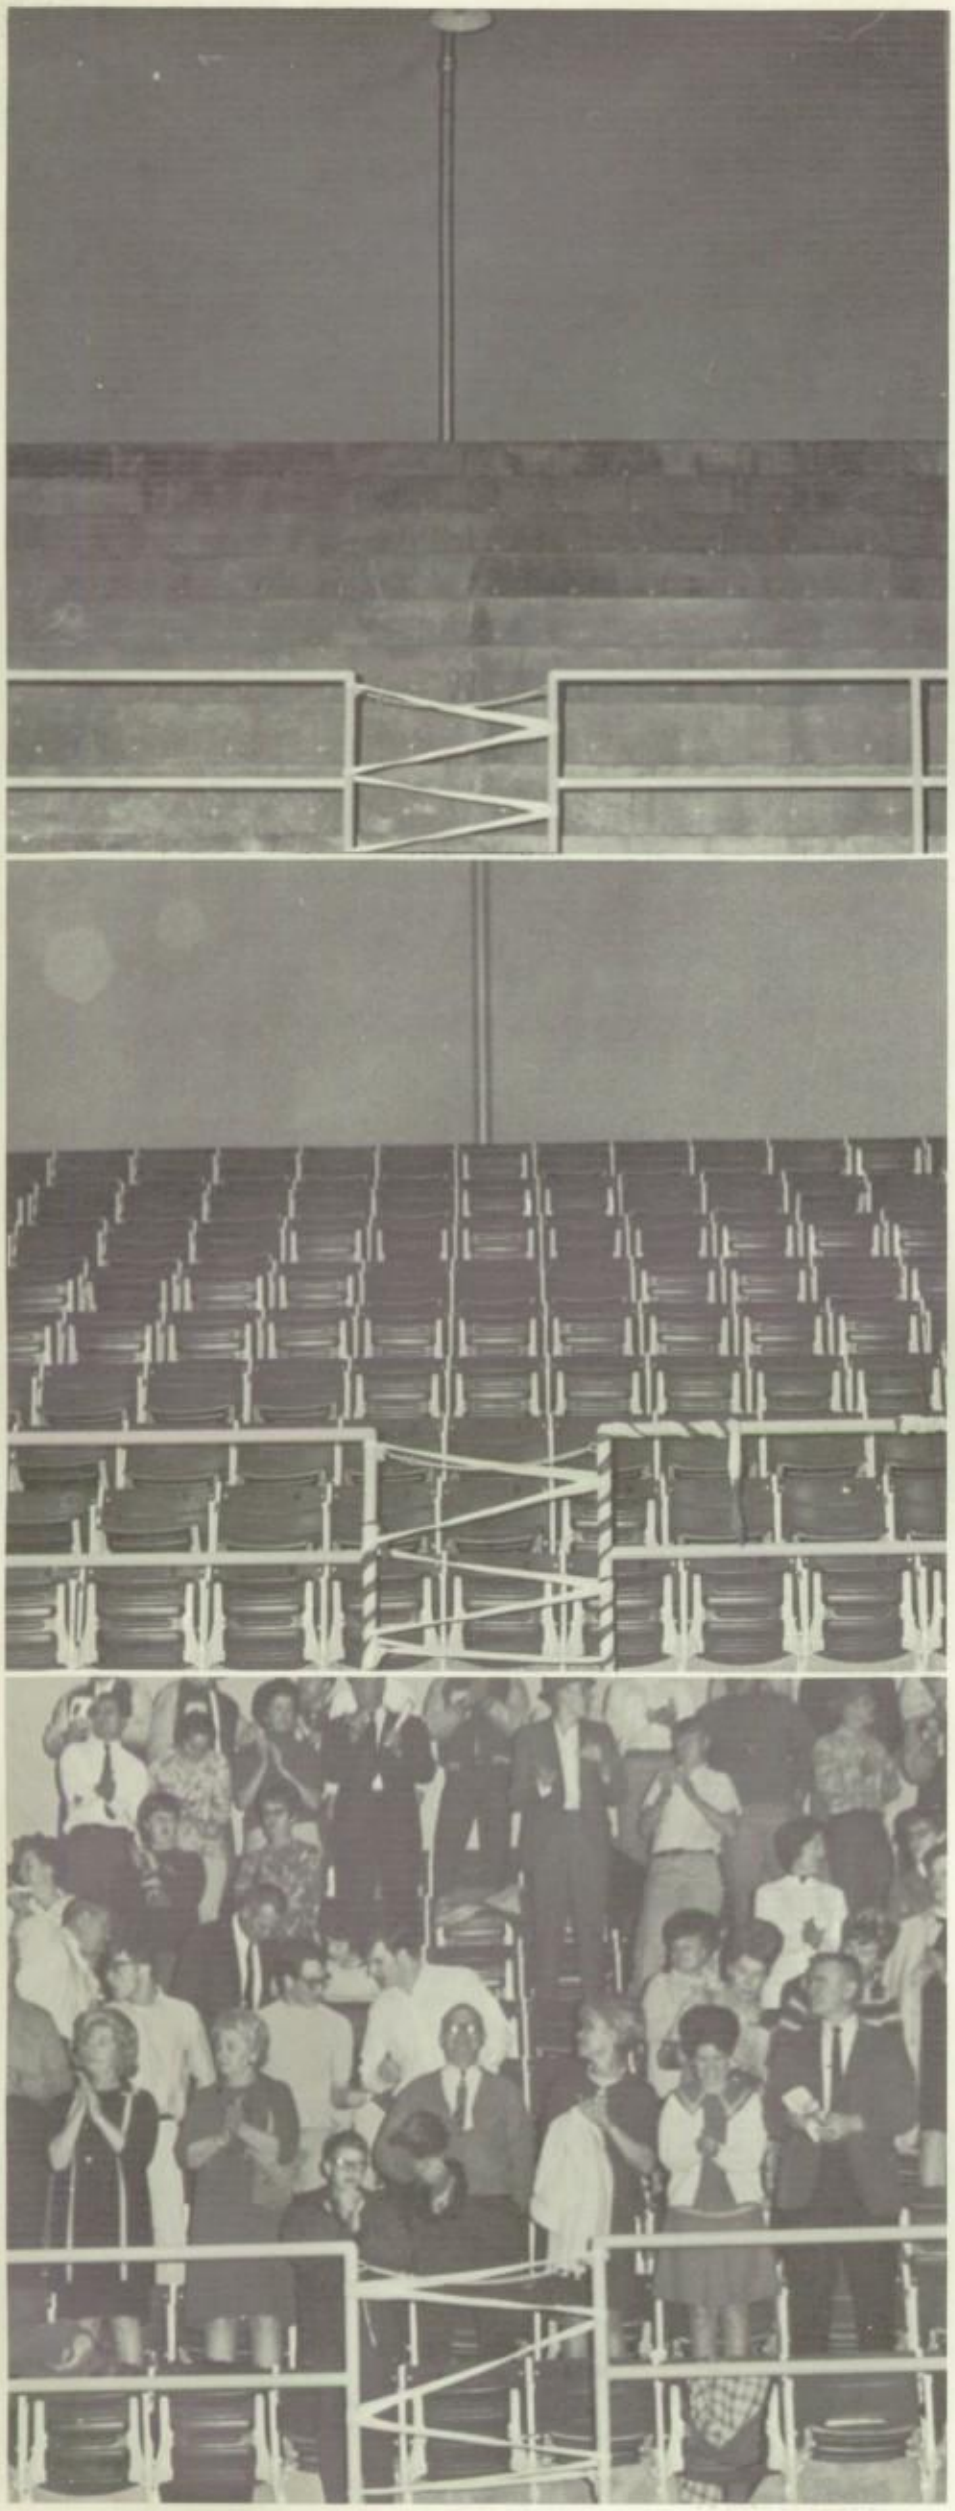


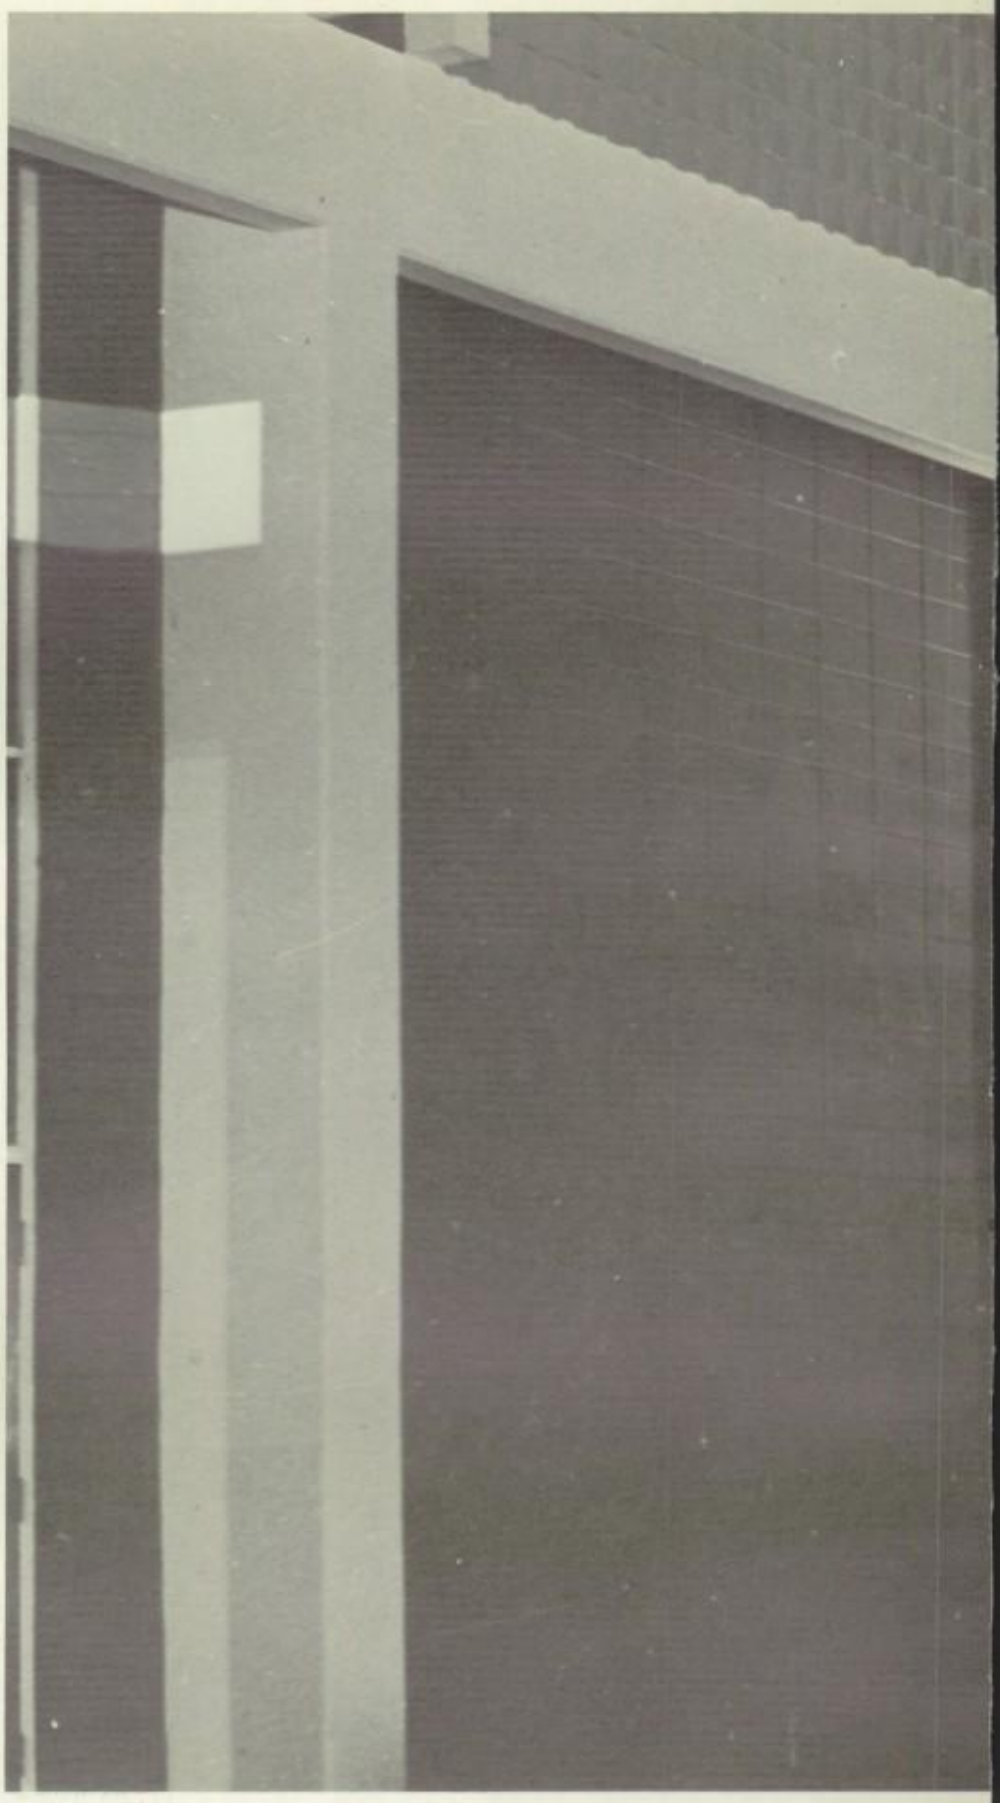
Sylvester Smith gives his rendition of "The Impossible Dream."

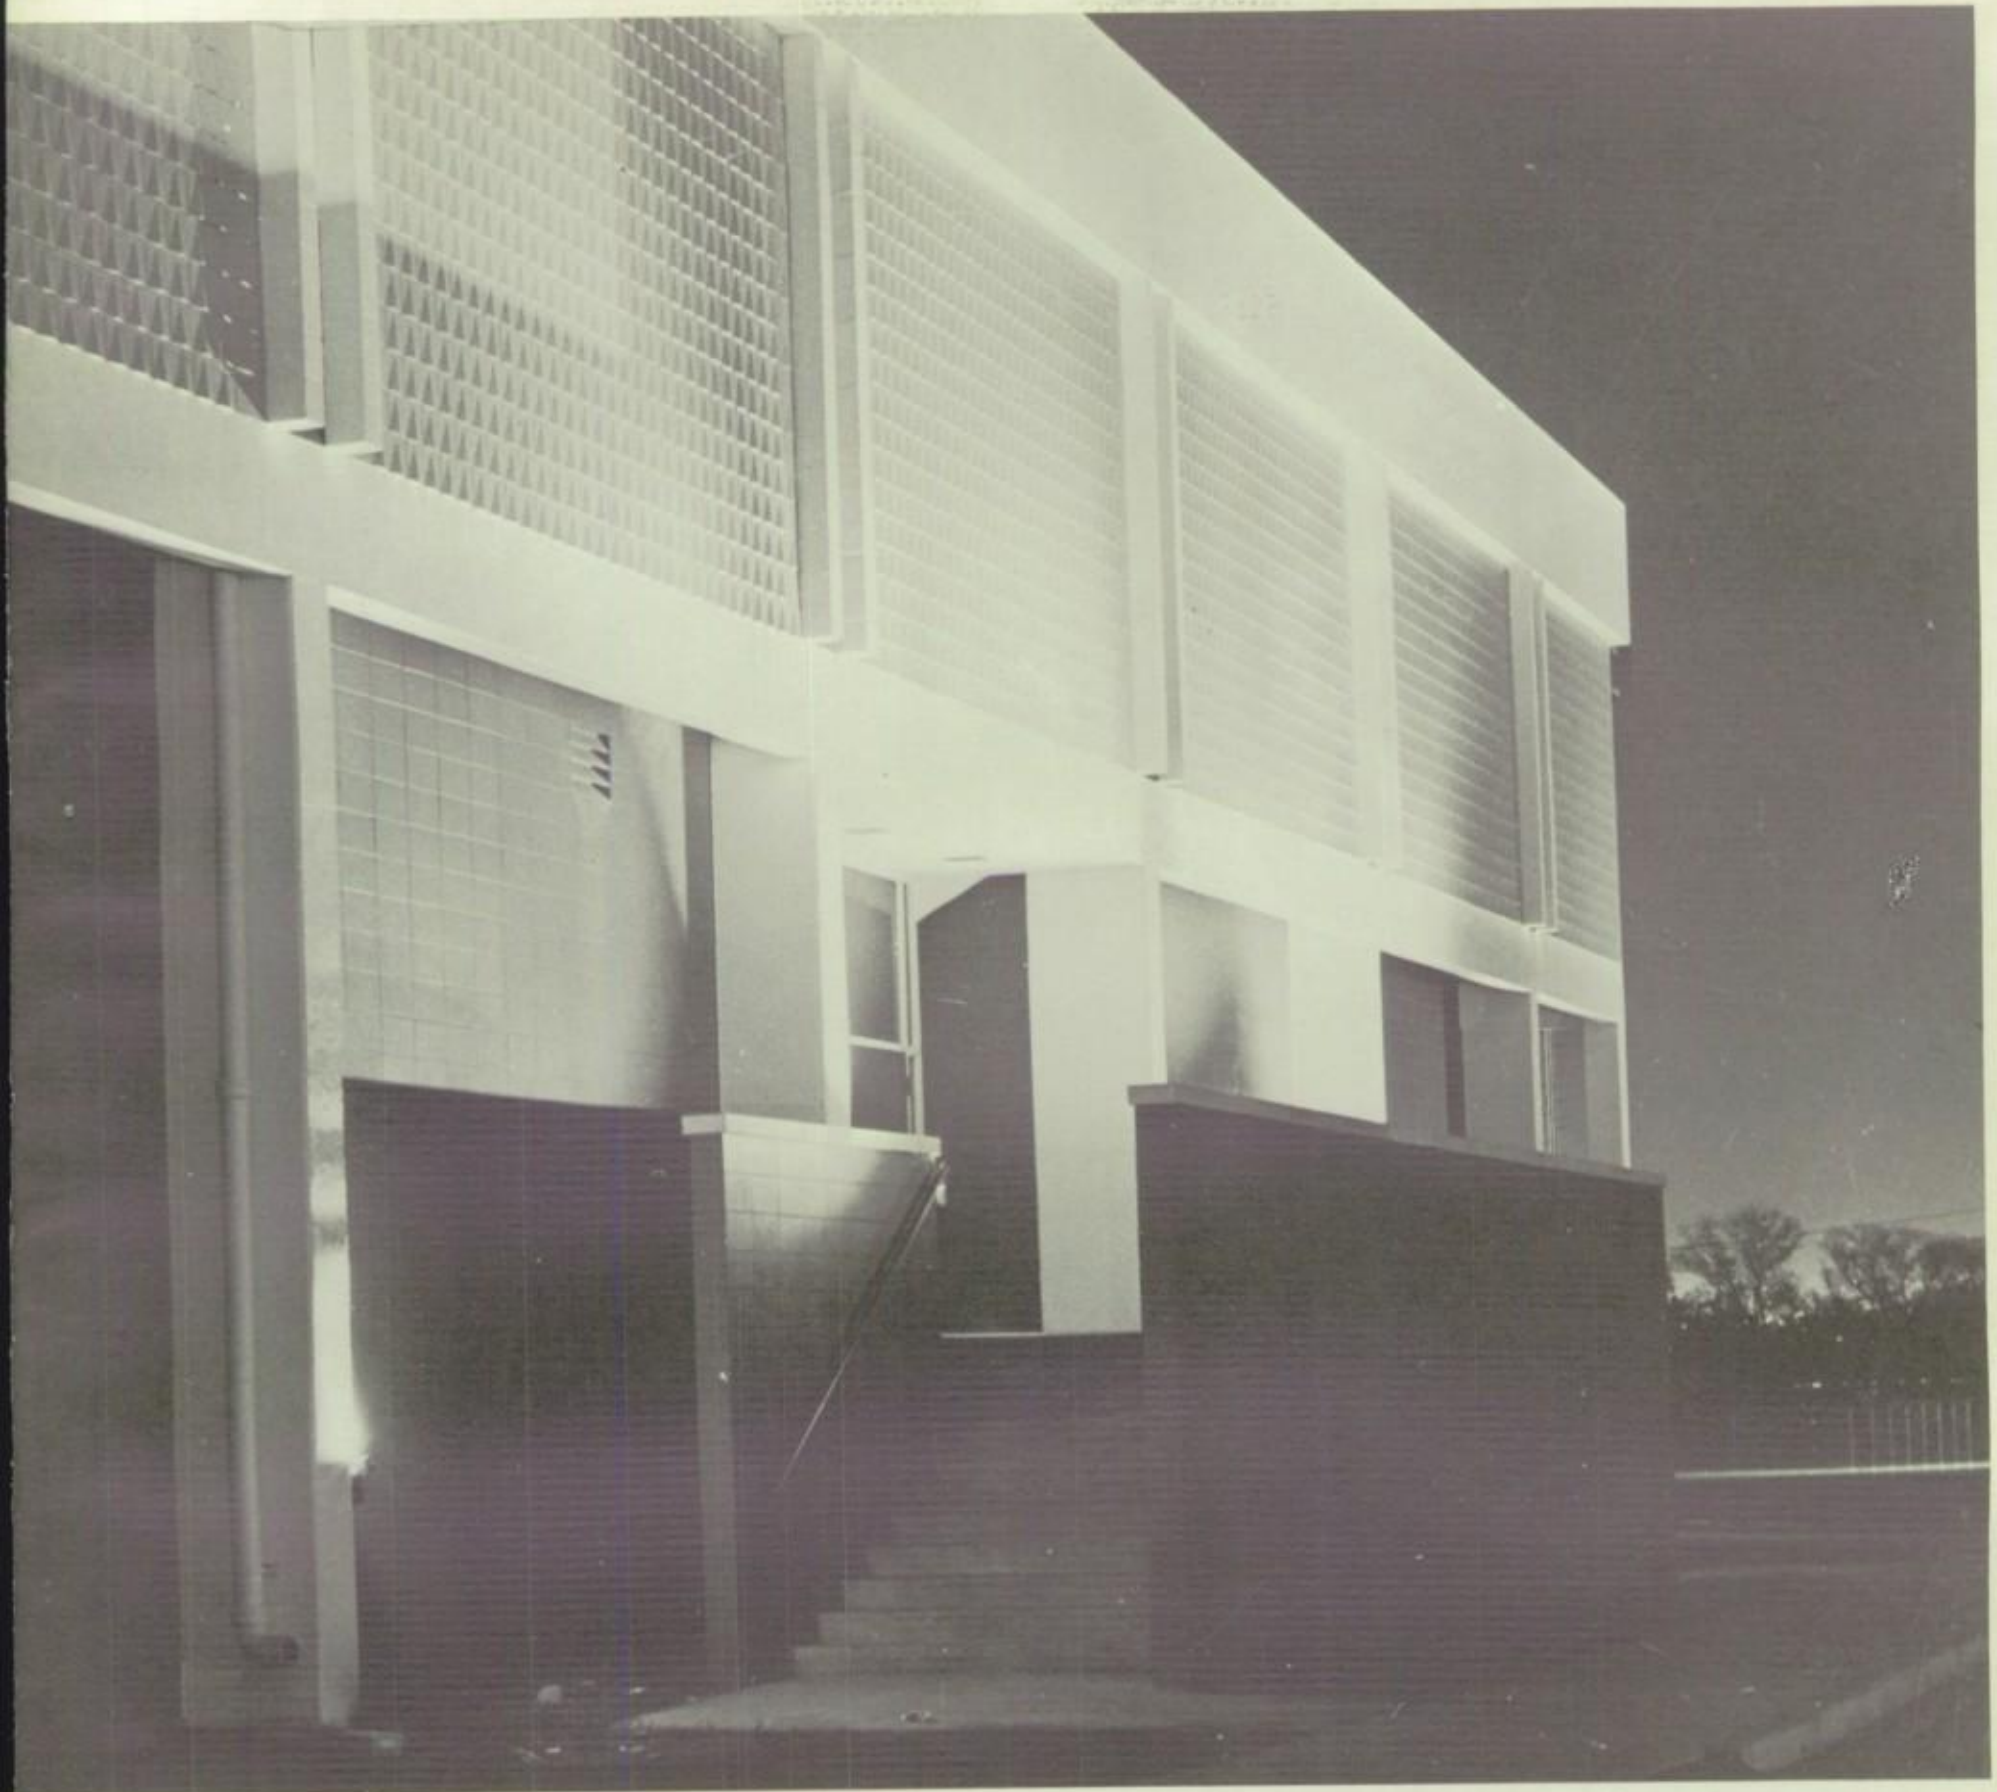
Elizabeth Jones, Janice Creed, and Rose Hamric give shouts of support for their Eagles.



Mark Blackwell tries the upward view.







From the loneliness of an empty gym . . .
to the crowds at a game,
the new D.C.H.S. Field House shows the progress of one successful year.

This is not the end.
It is not even the beginning of the end.
It is rather the end of the beginning.
